JAIL FOR MILLIONAIRE

Vineyardist Unrepentant — Says Government Wasn't on the Level With Him

By N.E.A. Service
OAKLAND, Calif., June 1.—An oft-expressed belief that "millionaires do not go to jail" is shattered by Theodore Gier of this city.

Gier, 50, millionaire vineyardist, is serving 90 days in Alameda county prison for violation of prohibition laws.

But Gier is unrepentant.

"For years," he said, "the government encouraged me in my business and then, overnight, they tried to take it away from me. In a case like that, what would a man do?"

The wealthy grape-grower has entertained two presidents of the United States and a decoration bestowed by the former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany.

"How am I a lawbreaker?" he asks. "The prohibition law is really not a law at all; it is just something that the majority slipped over on the majority."

HITS CHILD MARRIAGES

LONDON, June 1.—Child marriages may be prohibited in Britain. Parliament is considering a bill by C. G. Ammon, labor member, that would forbid marriages of persons under 16. Present legal ages are 14 for males, and 12 for females.

TAKING "DRECO"

Substantial Farmer of Gerry Praises the Great Herbal Remedy for His Splendid Relief

Aroused His Liver, Relieved Constipation, Strengthened His Kidneys

Many people have found prompt relief from their troubles by taking Dreco, the great herbal remedy, after everything else had failed for them. Such was the experience of a man right here in our midst. He is John A. Tompkins of Gerry, near Jamestown, N. Y., a prosperous and substantial farmer, and told the following story to the Dreco Expert. He said:

"I have obtained splendid benefit from taking Dreco and that is why I am giving my experience to the public. Indigestion caused a lot of annoyances to me for after meals my stomach would fill up with gas, I'd belch sour, hot water and often had cramps."

"My liver was sluggish which brought on headaches, dizzy spells and a coated tongue. I was constipated most of the time and had to take medicine to keep my bowels active. I often had pains in my back and loins which I'm sure came from weak kidneys. I felt drowsy and tired all the time."

"I read of someone who had been relieved of these same troubles by taking Dreco, so I bought some and it has certainly done me lots of good. I am free of the headache, bowels are regular, never have a dizzy spell or headache and my stomach has been greatly relieved. I go about my work feeling better than in years. I shall always speak highly of Dreco."

"DRECO is being introduced to the people of Lowell by Green's Drug store, 111 on them. Let them tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. They will honestly tell you whether or not they think DRECO will benefit you."

LAWRENCE W. CUMMINGS KILLED BY AUTO TRUCK

Lawrence W. Cummings, 43, of 26 Dutton street, employed as a stage hand at the R. F. Keith theatre, was fatally injured late yesterday afternoon at the junction of Westford and Osgood streets when struck by an automobile truck owned and operated by Milo D. Clay of 411 School street, house painter. He died at the Lowell Corporation hospital as the result of a fractured skull.

Mr. Clay reported the accident at police headquarters where he was charged with manslaughter and released under $2000 bonds.

The accident occurred when Cummings walked from in back of a street railway car and directly in front of the truck. Mr. Clay said he was driving his machine in second speed at the time, but was unable to bring it to a stop in time to avoid hitting the man. Cummings was thrown heavily to the street, his head striking the pavement with considerable force.

With the help of James Cadden of 110 Chapel street and Peter Roarke of 355 Lawrence street, Mr. Clay carried Cummings to the office of Dr. Charles L. Sweetser nearby. First aid treatment was given but it was seen that the man was seriously injured and he was rushed to the hospital, only to die soon after arrival there. Cummings is survived by an aunt, Mrs. Ella M. Sweeney of Lawrence and an uncle, Thomas Cummings of this city. The body was taken to the rooms of Undertakers Peter H. Savage Son Co.

FUNERALS

WELCH—The funeral of James F. Welch, a respected resident of the Belvidere district, took place this morning from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leo Andrew, 32 Swift street, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. Including the following delegation from the Lowell Aerie of Eagles at which he died was an esteemed member, William Mulligan, Timothy J. O'Connor, Joseph C. Clark and Thomas Flanley. Thursday evening the members of the order under the leadership of worthy President Timothy E. Barry and assisted by the officers of the Aerie conducted services at the house, and appropriate selections were rendered by chorister James E. Donnelly. A funeral high mass was sung at the Immaculate Conception church this morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., officiating. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles J. Smith, rendered the Gregorian chant. At the offertory "O Meritum Passionis" was sung by Miss Isabel McKiernan, and the solos in the De Profundis were sustained by Mr. James E. Donnelly. Mrs. Walker presiding at the organ. There was an unusually large number of floral tributes and of spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Terence D. Leonard, George W. Gordon, John J. Connor, Charles T. O'Brien, Edward P. O'Brien and Philip H. Smith. At the grave Rev. Fr. Sullivan read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

MECHAN—The funeral of John J. Meahan, a well known employee of the Eastern Mass. St. Ry., took place this morning from the home of his brother, Timothy Meahan, 6 Pleasant street, at 9 o'clock, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to the Immaculate Conception church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn high funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. James J. McArthur, O.M.I., as celebrant. Rev. Fr. O'Malley, O.M.I., as deacon, and Rev. William A. Robbins, O.M.I., as subdeacon. The choir, augmented for the occasion, sang the Gregorian chant. Solos of the mass were sustained by Mrs. Isabella McKenna, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. Hugh Walker and Mr. Charles P. Smith. Mrs. Walker presided at the organ. There was a procession of floral offerings as well as many spiritual bouquets. The casket was borne by the following bearers: Messrs. Patrick Hayden, Patrick Hunt, Patrick McDevitt, Patrick Reagan, Thomas Hayden and Edward Nichols. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read at the grave by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Donnell & Pay.

EVER SEE A TIGER LAUGH?

BY MILTON BRONNER
N.E.A. Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 1.—Georges Clemenceau, the "Tiger" and one of France's greatest statesmen, is laughing at the predicament in which Premier Poincaré is finding himself.

The premier had decided on a vigorous course of action against Marcel Cachin and 15 other communists arrested many months ago for their activities in the Ruhr. But the senate declined to sit as a high court to try them.

Poincaré heatedly tendered his resignation. But President Millerand refused to accept it. Then a compromise was effected. But many believe Poincaré's position and dignity have suffered.

Among them is Clemenceau. He laughed and said:

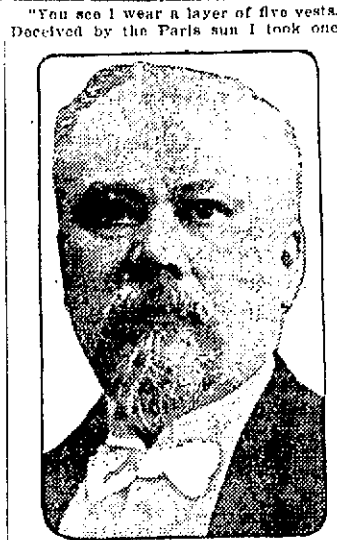

"But then—Poincaré is utterly ridiculous anyway. Just as he was when he and his followers attributed a political motive for my trip to America."

As if American crowds and American applause could mean votes for a Frenchman in France.

The "Tiger" was juggling up and down self.

CLEMENCEAU

was interrupted by a coughing spell. When he continued, poking fun at himof them off. So now I have a cold and cough.

"But soon I will go to Vimy and then

Clemenceau is writing a book. But it isn't for immediate release. "My book," he says, "is to be published 2500 years after my death. There will be no politics in it. As I told you last summer, and I repeat to you now, any man who has been in public life and who writes the story of his life, writes an apology or a defense of his acts. I will neither apologize nor defend what I have done."

"Then your book will contain your philosophy of life and perhaps your views on religion?" I queried.

"You mustn't ask too many questions. It is not polite nor polite. If I told you now whether I think life is aimless or otherwise, I might change my mind before the end came. Besides my book will never be finished. I write it when the mood strikes me and it will be ended before the book is. It is doomed to be a fragment."

"But it will be a monument to Georges Clemenceau who lived to lead his country to victory in revenge for the bitter days of 1870?" I ventured.

"I am a modest man," he parried. "Let's talk of Poincaré. I enjoy that more."

It is claimed that crows, eagles, ravens and swans live to be 100 years old.

CITIZENS' MILITARY TRAINING CAMP

General Brewster, commander of the First Corps Area for the 3,000 students who will take the courses of instruction at the Citizens' Military Training camp to be held at Camp Devens, announces that boys who reach their 17th birthday this calendar year, are eligible to enter the training, providing they pass the physical tests. Capt. Charles Huggins, in charge of athletics at Devens for the past two summers, will be present this year, with larger and better facilities for the proper handling of sports activities for the students. Three thousand dollars will be expended for additions to the sporting equipment, and to foster inter-company and regimental competition.

The purchase of the latest design amplifiers to improve radio equipment of the camp has been carried out. Concerts will be given every evening in the recreation hall. A special course in radio will be given by the Signal Corps department. James G. Harbord, retired president of the Radio Corporation of America, is offering a prize of a complete radio set to the student showing the best record in this department.

try, has reported for duty at corps area headquarters and will immediately commence a speaking tour of the colleges and preparatory schools of New England. Students enrolled in the Coast Artillery corps will be trained at Fort H. C. Wright on Long Island, going direct from their homes to this fort. Only 300 students can be enrolled for this camp, and they will have the use of the high-powered guns, under the direction of capable instructors. The state commanders of the American Legion have been asked to co-operate in securing desirable students for enrollment by nominating specially qualified boys for admission to the training. Major Joseph W. Bartlett, commander of the Boston chapter of the Military Order of the World War, has advised all members of his organization to assist in getting members to enter the camp.

Camp Commander, Col. Frank C. Bolles is now stationed at Camp Devens, getting everything in readiness for the reception of the students. Capt. John C. MacDonald, officer in charge of the Citizens' Military Training camp affairs, will fly to Dillbury field in an airplane piloted by Lieut. P. C. Moffatt, June 2, in connection with the celebration of a Somerville anniversary. In an effort to stimulate recruiting for the camp, information in regard to the camp, can be secured from the headquarters of the Military Training Camps association at Room 316, 84 State street, Boston.

FOR EMERSON, RALSTON, PACKARD

And Other High Grade Makes

This is absolutely the Greatest Money-Saving Event in the History of Shoe Selling. Think, Men, of getting such well known makes at these prices.

We have turned our second Birthday and wish to thank the Buying Public of Lowell and vicinity for their very liberal patronage for the past twelve months. Our buyers have been preparing and have searched the markets for stylish, up-to-date merchandise of the best quality at the lowest possible prices obtainable, and to make this a sale long to be remembered. Our Stocks of HIGH GRADE CLOTHING, FURNISHINGS, HATS and SHOES are most complete, and we realize there must be a real reason for our big increased business. Our reasons for this increase in business are so easy to understand by the REAL VALUES we have given, and we are out to double our business this year. No man who steps up to our windows can fail to be tremendously impressed by the astounding bargains he sees displayed in them. The HIGH GRADE CLOTHING that we show at prices that stagger belief, and not a dollar's worth of it has escaped a big cut in price, and on this our Second Anniversary we have made preparations to give bigger and better values than ever before—which will make this second ANNIVERSARY SALE the busiest of our career. Don't miss it, for nowhere will you find anything to compare with the bargains that this sale offers.

LOWELL'S WATER LIFE SAVING CAMPAIGN

Lowell's water life-saving campaign for men and boys will open next Monday, June 4, and continue for two weeks at the Lowell Y.M.C.A. swimming pool under the auspices of the American Red Cross with the following organizations co-operating: The Boy Scouts, Y.M.C.A. Boys' Club, Advertising Club, Y.W.C.A. Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co., Lowell Gas Co., Lowell Electric Light Co., newsmen, city council and various departments of the city government, represented by the following committees in charge of the arrangements: Mr. Robert Marden, chairman; Geo. Stevens of Hunting Hill, Mayor Donovan, Councilman Daly, Supt. of Schools Hugh Meloy, Principal of High School Henry H.

Harris, Physical Director of Public Schools, Donald MacIntyre, Chief Saunders of Fire Department, Chief Atkinson of Police Department, Park Commissioner Kirkman, F. A. Plather of Boat Mills, Royal P. White of Spring Mills, Dr. John H. Lombert, E. J. Alden, Boy Scouts, Walter R. Hayes, Boys' Club, Edward J. Conroy, Gas Co., Mr. George Wells, Chamber of Commerce, Edw. Fisher, Elmora L. McElroy, Herbert Horne, Y.M.C.A., Mr. Geo. Wood, Advertising Club, E. J. Mahoney, N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co., Harold F. Howe and E. T. Towne, and Captain Robert R. Miller, gold representative in life-saving of the New England Division, American Red Cross, will come to the city for the next week of the campaign and will direct the instruction and examination, assisted by E. E. Brown, physical director of the Y.M.C.A., and Frank W. Sawyer, Mr. Brown and Mr. Sawyer, both qualified Red Cross life-saving examiners, will conduct the classes the second week.

The instruction and tests will be covered by the star funds established by the Life-Saving Service of the American National Red Cross, and those who receive the instruction and pass the tests with the required percentage will qualify for membership in the American Red Cross Life-Saving Corps. It is hoped that a sufficient number will qualify for the organization of a corps in this city to carry on the life-saving work to reduce the number of deaths by accidental drowning.

Men and boys who can swim are eligible to join the life-saving corps. A person who has not had previous instruction will receive a course for those 17 years of age and over, and junior classes for those from 12 to 16 years of age. The classes will probably be held in the late afternoon and evening.

Those who wish to qualify themselves to save human life in emergency should enroll at once at the Y.M.C.A. Captain Miller will teach those who join the classes the most effective methods of rescuing drowning persons and resuscitating persons unconscious when taken from the water. He will direct practices in the various methods and will give the tests which qualify those who pass for membership in the American Red Cross Life-Saving Corps. Those who pass the tests should be able to save life under actual emergency conditions and every year ocean, rivers and lakes, ponds and pools are taking their toll of lives that might be saved. Many drown because no one among those present knows what to do.

The life-saving service of the American Red Cross is one of its most important activities. Through education of swimmers in proper methods of speedy action in water emergencies the Red Cross is striving to reduce the preventable deaths by drowning. It is a continuous effort, carried on through the year in winter, in indoor swimming pools, in summer at summer camps and beaches. "Everyone a swimmer, every swimmer a life-saver"—that is the goal.

DRAWING CONTEST
The benefit drawing contest for St. Vartanantz church was held in the church hall on Lawrence street, Wednesday night and the following numbers were drawn for the prizes: 1st, 1922, and 1923, 34, 1872, and 4th, 2547. The holders of these tickets may get their prizes by calling at the home of the agent, Sarkis Boyan, 22 Water street.

Keep Your Hands Soft and White With Cuticura

The daily use of the Soap, with occasional touches of the Ointment, is very effective for keeping the hands soft and smooth. For red, rough or sore hands: On retiring bathe in hot water and Cuticura Soap, dry and rub in Cuticura Ointment. Keeps Red, Puffy, Itchy, Aching, Chapped, and Cracked Hands Soft and White. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure, Unscented Cuticura Soap especially prepared for skin use. Adv.

VESPER COUNTRY CLUB MEETING

At a special meeting of the Vesper Country Club held last night at the Island, necessary votes were passed amending the constitution and by-laws to allow the issuance of certificates of membership as a means of financing the erection of a new clubhouse to replace the one destroyed by a few weeks ago.

At a previous meeting held in February last the executive committee was authorized to go ahead with such a plan and last night's action was for the purpose of localizing the procedure.

The business session did not last for more than 16 or 15 minutes and was attended by about 100 of the resident members of the club.

CHALIFOUX'S FASHIONGRAMS FROM PARIS

Summer fashions are expected to take the place of winter wraps except for formal evening wear. This one is made of heavy silk crepe trimmed with wide bands of broadened ribbons. Other materials in favor are the brocaded velvets and plush crepes.

Notice the heavy, draped lines, the long full sleeves and the fashionable, elegant, the jacket is made from McCall Pattern 2710, 2711, 2712.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer either occasionally or continually from indigestion, flatulency, and indigestion have now discovered that the use of harmful drugs, such as cathartics, is not the way to get relief. There will be no more of these 17 years of age and over, and junior classes for those from 12 to 16 years of age. The classes will probably be held in the late afternoon and evening.

FAREWELL AND WELCOME

Parishioners Say Farewell to Departing Pastor and Welcome His SuccessorMembers of the Central Methodist church last night tendered a farewell reception to Rev. and Mrs. John L. Wolfe, who is leaving the congregation to accept another ministry, and welcomed Reginald B. Nichols, recently appointed pastor of the church. The reception held in the vestry of the church was sponsored by the Ladies Aid society.A large gathering of parishioners assembled to partake of the supperand to bid farewell to the departing pastor and to welcome into their midst his successor. Seated at the guests' table were, Rev. and Mrs. J. L.
Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Beckes,
Rev. Reginald B. Nichols, Miss M. M.
Renson and Miss Leslie Wadsworth.
The supper arrangements were supervised by Miss Julia Lewis, assisted by Mrs. Daniel Wood, Mrs. Blanche Clark and the Misses Anna Heffer, Viola Lilley, Irene Wadsworth, Gladys
Harris and Mabel Gardner.A musical and singing entertainment followed the supper. Robert Wood in behalf of the congregation presented to the departing pastor a gift from his parishioners. Those who took part in the entertainment were Lawrence Hardy, piano solo; Clarence Chenoweth, solo; Rachel Wood, reading; Alan D. Beckes and Miss Mary
Rubin, solos.The waitresses assisted by Bessie
Ulrich and Mabel Gardner presented "The Pan of Pudding." The players under the coaching of Miss M. M.
Lewis gave a very creditable performance, that won the approval of the audience. Rev. Wolfe, the departing minister, and the new pastor, Rev.
Nichols, made brief remarks to the congregation during the evening. Mrs.
M. M. Renson was in charge of the reception. She was assisted by Mrs.
Alan Beckes, Miss Violet Wood and Miss Marion Lewis.COMEDY SKETCH BY THE O. M. I. CADETS"A Night at Mithras's Grove," a comedy sketch by members of the O.M.I. Cadets, will be one of the features of the big celebration planned in honor of Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, organizer and chaplain of the O.M.I.
Cadets, who will observe the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination next Sunday. The sketch will be given in the Memorial Auditorium next Monday evening, as a special feature of the two-day celebration being planned on an elaborate scale by present and former O. M. I. Cadets.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev.
Fr. Sullivan will be the celebrant at a solemn high jubilee mass, which will be attended by hundreds of Cadets, parishioners and friends, in the Immaculate Conception church. Besides the little playlet in the Auditorium Monday night, the celebration will consist of a general reception. No admission will be charged.The jubilee committee, which will meet in Y.M.C.A. hall tonight to arrange final details, consists of the following: James C. Reilly, chairman;

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

SHRINE IN MEMORY OF MARK TWAIN

FLORIDA, Mo. June 1. (By The Associated Press.)—The plan to establish a Mark Twain memorial park here where the humorist was born, has met with an encouraging response, according to officers of the Mark Twain State Memorial Park association, which is fostering the movement.

The executive committee has set August as "Mark Twain month" and the first week in September as "Mark Twain week." All lovers of the famous humorist should read at least one of his books in August, the committee declared, and heads of schools will be asked to have some sort of memorial program on one day in "Mark Twain week."

M. A. Violette, owner of the home here in which Mark Twain was born, has promised to donate the house and its old-time curio to the association. Mark Twain was born November 30, 1835, and in his autobiography he humorously speaks of Florida as having "two streets, each a couple of hundred yards long, with rail fences and corn fields on either side." Florida, however, has grown into a neat little town, with all the usual business institutions.

The majority of members of the association are editors of newspapers in Missouri.

ATLANTA EXPECTS

50,000 ELKS

ATLANTA, June 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—Not less than fifty thousands from all parts of America are expected to be present at the annual convention of the grand lodge of the order which meets in Atlanta July 2 to 15. The gathering will assemble delegations from Maine to Hawaii, with present indications pointing to representation from a large majority of the 1000 lodges in the country.

This is the first time that a convention of the grand lodge of Elks has ever been held in the southeast, and the first time in ten years that the order has come south.

The Atlanta lodge is completing preparations to entertain a minimum of 75,000 visitors. The hotel capacity will be enlarged by July 1, college dormitories will be operated as temporary hotels, two vast Pullman cities will be set up in the heart of the city, and the grounds and buildings of the southeastern fair will be converted into a monster tourist camp to accommodate several thousand southern lodges which will make the trip by automobile. Thousands of private homes will be opened.

A special railroad rate of a fare and a half of the round trip, under the identification certificate plan, will be in force over practically all lines.

Prize and Championship Dancing Contest at the Kasino This Evening

JAMES BATHO AND SOPHIE HARMER

Following out its policy of supplying the local dancing patrons with big time attractions, the management of the popular Kasino dance pavilion in Thordike street, has prepared a stellar number for this evening by way of a prize dance for the championship of the Merrimack valley, featuring James Batho and Sophie Harmer of this city, and Bruce Gray and Louise Postano, experienced top-notch artists and well known in practically every dance hall of importance in this and other New England cities. Tonight's exhibition has been awaited by dance enthusiasts in this city for several weeks. It was only after considerable difficulty that the participants in tonight's exhibition were looked to appear here. The championship award will be made by three disinterested judges and not by the usual method of popular applause. In this way, disputes will be done away with, as partiality will have no consideration with the judges. The decision will be rendered purely on points. Campbell's orchestra, which is making a decided hit with Kasino patrons, will furnish the music.

Making Special Appeal For Bondsmen

fornia and other parts of the Pacific coast, Panama, Georgia and Maryland organizations have some attractive openings for the man who is qualified for special work. Men with education who are qualified to attend trade schools are especially wanted by the recruiting officer. The attractive berths in the army are attracting many of the ex-servicemen who left the army at the close of the World war and who are now anxious to get back into the game, reports Sergeant Kimball, who accepted several enlistments this week. The Philippines have been closed for the past three years to all enlistments and the chances now offered are apt to be withdrawn on short notice, if applications for this duty continue to pour in.

Real Estate Sales

effected through the office of the Allen and Realties. Francis P. Laughlin has sold to Edmond and Melvin Beauregard the 7-room cottage and six-car garage and about 500 sq. ft. of land, located in French street near Queen street. The sale price is in the vicinity of $4500.

Sales By Humphrey.
R. M. Humphrey, realtor, has effected four real estate transactions during the past few days. They are as follows:
Two-tenement house and 6,000 square feet of land at 141-16 A street, owned by Clara A. Omand, sold to Thomas Wadsworth.

Two-tenement house and 6,000 sq. feet of land, located at 223 Walker street, owned by Eva M. Lombard, sold to Charles A. and Mary A. Brennan.

Two-tenement house and large tract of land, located at 24-26 Burlington avenue, owned by Mary J. Mansfield, sold to Thomas J. Tevlin.

The seven-room house and large tract of land, located at 13 Sutherland street, owned by William Hoar, sold to James McCandles.
Condon Residence Sold.
The home of the late Peter F. Condon, located at 43 Marlborough street, which consists of a modern nine-room house and 523 square feet of land, has been sold to W. V. Bennett. The sale was made in behalf of Mrs. R. Etta Condon, widow of Peter F., and was effected through the office of T. H. Elliott.

LORD CURZON MAKES PROTEST

Objects to Search at Gravesend for Bones of Indian Princess Pocahontas

Denounces Destruction of Works of Art in Address at London

LONDON, June 1.—Marquis Curzon, the foreign secretary has added his voice to the protest against the search at Gravesend for the bones of the Indian Princess Pocahontas. Addressing a meeting of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings last evening, he denounced the destruction of works of art in the past and asserted that reverence for ancient buildings was an admirable sentiment. He said that it was indeed almost a religious cult, and added: "But there is one form this cult takes which seems to me to be antiquarianism run mad—the modern craze for digging up the remains of the dead." Lord Curzon, after mentioning several instances in point, including the excavation at King Tutankhamun's tomb for which he thought there was some excuse because of the artistic and historical results obtained, referred to Pocahontas. He said he had just read of a lot of ghouls gathered around the site of her interment where they were finding a heap of skulls and bones while men of science are actually sitting by to discover whether among this pile of debris they can find a skull with some black hair on it. "In our passion for antiquity," he added, "let us at least spare the dead." Inasmuch as the permission of Home Secretary Wedgwood was necessary before the search at Gravesend became possible, it is believed that Lord Curzon's comments will not escape remark.

Table, Buffet and Six Chairs, Queen Anne Style $110.00

Here is the premier value of all the dining room furniture ever offered at the price. An oblong table, handsome buffet with mirror back, full length of buffet, together with one arm chair and five straight chairs, the most complete suite, especially priced at $110.00.

All pieces are true reproductions of the Queen Anne style. The turnings have been carefully worked up, and the result is evidenced in a suite of furniture out of the ordinary. This only means that you can now furnish your dining room in just the manner you would have it—and at a very minimum expense. The suite is finished in Walnut.

Mahogany Library $13.95 Table

You will better be in a position to appreciate this library table value upon seeing it. Finished in dull mahogany to a high degree, it makes a very attractive and beautiful addition to any living room or library. It would be just the piece to set a lamp upon. As shown, has full length rack for books, etc.

A Big Bed Outfit $30.00 Bed, Spring, Mattress

The most economical value you can possibly share in is this one, where a full size brass bed, steel tempered spring and 50-lb. mattress are offered in combination at a price which the bed alone would command. If you would have a complete bed outfit for the extra room or the furnishings for a room you contemplate getting at a minimum expense, we highly recommend this outfit.

SPARKS' CIRCUS SEEMED TO PLEASE EVERYBODY

The Sparks' circus gave two excellent performances on the Fair grounds lot in Gorham street yesterday afternoon and evening, with large crowds in attendance.

This circus always has been famed for its wonderful horses and the appearance of scores of beautiful steeds stood out prominently as a feature of the show. In every way the circus lived up to a "big time" reputation and put on one of the cleanest and most entertaining programs possible. Although not comparable in size to the larger circuses, such as Ringling Bros., it nevertheless is distinctly high grade and worthy of patronage.

A 1923 acquisition to the circus is a remarkable group of 16 German trained "reluctant" horses, direct from the Stellingen training quarters in Essen and their equal never has been seen in this country. The extreme height of animal intelligence was displayed in their act in the middle ring and the audience greeted them with rounds of applause.

The dancing horses, 10 in number, featuring their trainer, Minnie Thompson, horsewoman of national repute, was another outstanding feature, as was Bessie Harvey, with her trained pigeons and thoroughbred Arabian mount, Lassen-Bey. Other equestrians were Bessie and Melvin Hollis, dainty Flora Bedini and Walter Guice, each a rider of renown.

Clowns, with bags-full of brand new stunts, were in abundance during both performances and the production was brought to an end with a reproduction of a genuine English fox hunt, in which a dozen horses, featuring King George, champion broad jumper, was ridden by Florence Harris.

For an hour before the afternoon and evening performances, a splendid concert was given by Jack Phillips' band.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"I Heard," which is still proving highly popular at the R. F. Keith's theatre, is an intriguing little comedy, put forth with all of the art Edwin Burke and Paul Decker & Co. can summon. It has to do with the matter of winking tongues, and of the danger which so many times results. Notwithstanding the seriousness of it all, there is a fine comedy element throughout. "I Heard" Ford, the monologist, is scoring well with his talk on current topics, and Revan & Flint are musical comedy artists with a new line of patter. "I Heard" and other acts which are listed for the week's program are: Neil O'Connell, dainty singer of St. Angelo, acrobats, and Wilbert & Dawson, cyclists.

THE STRAND

Charles Ray is yet to register a failure in pictures. Knowing that to be so, patrons will find "Smudge," which is showing at The Strand, one of his most amusing screen creations. See it and laugh with Charlie. The second feature is "The Footlight Ranger." This, too, has all of the elements that will please. The comedy and weekly will help out and Strand comfort is always a factor in the 100 per cent enjoyment to be had at Lowell's biggest and best theatre.

HALLO THEATRE

For the week-end bill the Hallo theatre has a double feature attraction. The first feature will introduce William Fairbanks in "The Desert," a thrilling western which is filled with rapid action from start to finish. The second feature is entitled "The Tempest" and there is an all-star cast performing. A Harold Lloyd comedy entitled "Now or Never" rounds out the bill.

CROWN THEATRE

Drama and William Farnum—there is a combination that becomes stronger with every picture in which the Fox star appears. His latest, "Brass Commandments" will be shown at the Crown for two days starting today. It is a story of the west, done in the breezy style of Charlie Allen Seltzer, popular for his narratives of outdoor action. To make a good thing better, Tom Santschi, who held such a memorable conflict with Farnum in the "Spillers," gives the Fox star an equally historical battle in this play.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Only a few more opportunities remain for Lowell photoplay lovers to see "Telling Women," a drama of three kinds of love, now playing at the Merrimack Square with a cast that includes Barbara La Marr and other notables of the screen world. A Larry Semon comedy and a new round of "The Leatherpushers" are also being shown. Beginning Sunday and continuing four days the feature will be "The Little Lady Shoppe," a great drama of modern married life.

REMARKABLE INTERIOR VIEW OF FIRST AID CONTEST AT AUDITORIUM

Hyannis Team Wins

Hyal was supposed to have received such injuries as a telephone worker might easily receive while on the job. Five local doctors acted as judges and even they were amazed at the skill and dexterity shown by the teams. Between each contest, Williams' orchestra of New Bedford, composed of telephone workers and the Glen McPherson band of Lawrence furnished music and the entire audience joined in community singing.

Presented Vail Medals

While the judges' returns were being tabulated, Miss Elizabeth M. Longman, chief night operator in Lawrence, and Mrs. Dustin Hamblett, (Olga T. Woganda), former chief night operator in Lowell, were honored on the stage by a group of telephone girls, who acted as ushers during the evening, and were presented the Vail medals for intelligent, initiative and resourceful use of the telephone in a public emergency. Vice President Edmund W. Longley of Boston made the presentation speech and in it he told of the history of the telephone and the great part that New England played in its invention and its financing and also paid great tribute to the late Dr. Moses Greeley Parker of Lowell as one of the four pioneers in the telephone industry and one who had done much to make it a success. He then told of the act of the two chief operators who were receiving the medals, how, by ingenious use of the telephone they trapped a fugitive from justice who was later convicted of manslaughter, and he then presented the medals. Bouquets were then presented and the ushers escorted them off the stage and around the floor where they were cheered to an echo.

Standing of Teams

The announcement of the standing of the teams was then made by Plant Superintendent F. E. Tarr, of Boston. Hyannis had a mark of 86, Lawrence 85.75, Gloucester 84.75, Marlboro 84.5, and Brockton 84. The Hyannis and Lawrence teams then marched onto the stage where they were presented telephone company medals by Mr. Tarr and the Hyannis team was presented a large loving cup. Dr. E. F. Jones, American Red Cross, then presented the winning team Borglum medals and presented the second team Red Cross certificates. As the Hyannis team marched off the stage, their routers joined with them and performed a snake dance, ending by lifting the team men up on the shoulders of the routers and carrying them off the floor.

Forrest E. Tarr, division superintendent of plant, was director of the affair, and was assisted by Arthur Hindle, division safety supervisor; Daniel L. Lynch, M.D., medical director of the telephone company, was chief judge, and the judges were Dr. A. B. Gardner, Dr. G. Forrest Martin, Dr. E. A.

Robertson, Dr. Henry B. Plunkett, Dr. H. M. Larrabee and Dr. Charles M. Row. The recorders were Lester H. Long and Arthur C. Dawes, and timekeepers were Frank W. Dobson and Arthur J. McQuaid.

The district safety instructors present were Charles A. Cook, Essex, Bedford; Scott V. Curry, Framingham; Joseph T. McGill, Lowell; John M. Murney, Jr., Salem, and Willmarth Pierce, Brockton.

The Hyannis team consisted of J. E. Haydon, captain; C. W. Felton, patient; F. E. N. Brown, R. L. Freeman and P. Sears. The Lawrence team was J. H. Miller, captain; A. Campbell, patient; W. Dickison, W. Donahue and W. B. Humphrey.

The winning team is now eligible to enter into competition with the winners from the other divisions in New England. Although a definite date for this affair has not yet been set, it is expected that it will be in the near future and will be held in the Boston Arena.

One unusual feature of the event was the ushers. These were young ladies from the local exchange, they were dressed as American Red Cross nurses, making a very pretty picture as they guided the onlookers to their seats and later took part in the presentation of medals to the two chief operators.

General Dancing

Following the presentation of prizes,

general dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

TO RELEASE ALL CAPTIVES

Maj. Allen, Freed Yesterday,
Says All Will Be Released
in Few Days

American Army Officer and Englishman First to Be Set Free

TIENSTIN, June 1. (By the Associated Press.)—All the foreign captives now held by the Suchow train bandits in their Pantuzuku stronghold, will be released in a few days, according to Maj. Robert A. Allen, who arrived here last night accompanied by W. Smith, an Englishman, the two men having been released by the outlaws yesterday.

Major Allen was greeted by his wife and Mrs. Roland W. Finger. The latter's husband, Major Finger, still is held. Mrs. Finger appeared greatly distressed at the prospect of seeing her husband, but Major Allen reassured her with the statement that all the captives would soon be out.

The Chinese officials negotiating with the bandits demanded that the outlaws show their good faith by releasing two foreign prisoners. Major Allen said. The bandits demurred at first, declared the major, but finally announced: "All right, we will release the two grey-haired men."

Mr. Smith, the English tourist, who is around the 60-year mark, was jubilant. He said he was eager to resume his tour of the far east, but added that "in the future, I'll fight shy of bandit centers."

"We did not show the white feather," said he. "It has been an extraordinary experience, brilliant and even romantic, but I wouldn't go through it again for a million dollars."

The Englishman brought down a basketful of souvenirs from the bandit camp. Major Allen also brought an old sword with a curious scabbard. He said he traded a box of cigars for it.

The fellow captives of Smith, it was said, were amazed that so frail a man could withstand the terrible forced marches which the bandits at first inflicted. Mr. Smith said his only complaint was sleeplessness.

BILLS AFFECTING MOTOR TRAFFIC

The Lowell chamber of commerce has received information from the New England Traffic League about the various legislative bills affecting motor transportation. Among the most important in Massachusetts is House bill 1925, passed on the 16th, which imposes a tax of two cents per gallon on gas. The tax will produce about $5,000,000.

It is estimated that for a 5-ton truck operating in the Lowell area, the tax would amount to $180 per year. For the same size truck operating between Boston and Providence it is estimated that the total tax for a year would amount to $2800.

There are all sorts of freak bills introduced into the legislature. One contemplates putting motor trucks under the control of the Public Utilities commissions. No motor truck, according to that bill, could be used until the owner first secured from the board of control a certificate that such use would be a public necessity. The owner of the truck would have to file a statement of his financial responsibilities.

Another bill provides that truck owners furnish bonds and file insurance policies with the board. The Springfield Automobile club opposes this bill because it estimated that it would cost motor truck owners of this state $25,000,000 a year and that most of that money would go to out-of-town and out-of-state insurance companies.

Headlight Laws
Massachusetts approved 45 styles of headlights and Connecticut has just approved 65 types.

Vermont has just passed a law, effective January 1, 1924, that registrations for trucks will be on the basis of weight, 25 cents per 100 pounds. It is estimated that Vermont will receive $200,000 more revenue than by the present system.

Rhode Island has passed a law limiting the gross weight of motor trucks to 14 tons.

Massachusetts Fee
In the forty-eight states Massachusetts is forty-third in the size of the fee assessed on a one-ton truck, ten dollars. Massachusetts' $10 fee on a solid tire three and one-half ton truck

VARNUM SCHOOL PUPILS ON ANNUAL TOUR

The ninth grade students of the Varnum grammar school left Lowell early this morning, on board a special car, bound for John Greenleaf Whittier's birthplace, near Haverhill.

This is an annual event in the Varnum school and is looked forward to for years. The children carry their own lunches and from the time they arrive at their destination, about 11 o'clock, until time to come home, they are free to enjoy themselves to the limit.

The usual program at Whittier's home is a trip through the house, which is kept as near the same as it was in Whittier's time as is possible; a baseball game, luncheon, sports for boys and girls, and then a rest period prior to boarding the car and starting on the homeward journey.

Miss Elizabeth C. Kennedy, the principal of the school; Miss Charlotte Walsh and Miss Esther Donlan, teachers of the ninth grade, and John J. Nolan, janitor, accompanied the students on their excursion.

H. S. REGIMENT EXAMINATIONS
The written examinations for officers for the high school regiment for next year was held in room 137 of the high school this afternoon. More than 50 corporals, sergeants and lieutenants of this year's regiment took the examination and strove to answer the questions formulated by Major Colby Kirtledge, drill instructor, as to military tactics, etc. The result of the examination will not be made known for several weeks.

INSPECTING THE "WONDER PLOW"

ROTARY PLOW TO REVOLUTIONIZE FARM

By N.E.A. Service

ELMHURST, Ill., June 1.—Hanshaw's rotary plow, a new invention, in the opinion of farmers, has done the "impossible."

Recent tests here show that no matter how tough the soil, the new plow leaves the entire seedbed pulverized so finely that all the soil will pass through a sieve with one-fourth inch mesh.

Fletcher T. Hamshaw conceived the device which, experiments have conclusively proven, eliminates 90 percent of the farmer's work in plowing.

The purpose of the machine is not only to plow the soil, but to "order" it. That is, to prepare it for the immediate reception of seeds. The accompanying photo shows a close-up view of the drum. This drum does the trick. It is studded with a series of plow shears and tears into the soil.

Under ordinary conditions farmers found that only about 20 percent of the soil was pulverized finely enough after plowing, thus necessitating eight to ten different operations.

With the new machine, it is claimed, 90 percent of the soil is pulverized in the first operation. One of the features of Hamshaw's invention is that all surface vegetation is chopped up and mixed thoroughly with the seedbed 18 inches deep.

Says High Blood Pressure Can Be Reduced to Normal

THOUSANDS HAVE IT AND DON'T KNOW IT

Indicated by Dizzy Spells, Nervousness, Pains in the Head and Sleeplessness

Perhaps you don't know that high blood pressure is so serious that life insurance companies decline to accept as risks people who have it.

That's the best reason in the world why anyone with this trouble should start at once to reduce the pressure.

NORMA, the prescription now sold by A. W. Dows & Co., and all good druggists, has been so successful in reducing blood pressure to normal that the sales are growing to an extent beyond all expectations.

Most people who have high blood pressure are troubled with dizzy spells, pains in the head, lack of appetite and nervousness. They are usually restless, sometimes moody and can't sleep well. Many women at the changing time of life suffer severely and have hot flashes, headache and a miserable feeling at times.

All such ailments, if caused by high blood pressure, will quickly disappear if NORMA is used intelligently. In many cases one bottle works wonders. Sometimes more is necessary, but sufferers may be sure that one bottle will show them that NORMA is just what they need.

If you have high blood pressure on any of the symptoms, NORMA is the medicine you can rely upon. It is purely vegetable, and harmless and safe for anyone to take.

VAST VIRGIN AREAS SACRIFICED YEARLY

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.) Nearly one-half of the land area of the United States, or 622,000,000 acres, was originally forested, but today there are less than 470,000,000 acres of timber, including inferior culled and second growth and millions of acres of unproductive land. Of this amount only 138,000,000 acres are of virgin timberland.

"Mining" of timber instead of cultivation of this natural wealth as a crop, is held responsible for depletion of the country's timber resources in a review published in the yearbook of the department of agriculture for 1922. The amount at present being taken out of forests is estimated at four times the replacement by growth. More than 8,000,000 acres were destroyed in a recent year by 33,400 forest fires, and 75 per cent. of all lumber is still being cut from virgin stands.

While clearing forested land agriculturally was undertaken in aid agriculture, the demands for timber soon outstripped the farm land demands, until now there are millions of cleared acres idle. In Michigan, at the average rate of settlement for the last 20 years, it would take 350 years to settle the present area of cut-over lands and the remaining timber land that soon will be cut. In the southern part of the Lower Michigan Peninsula it would take 1700 years.

"The tradition that all cut or burned-over forest land, or even the greater part of it, is being taken by agriculture is not borne out by facts," the yearbook says. "The total area of forest lands already cut or burned over, exclusive of farm wood lots, that has not been taken for agricultural use, has already grown to 351,000,000 acres. Furthermore, our forest land is being cut over at the rate of about 10,000,000 acres yearly, and probably more than half this area is in virgin forest."

Idle cut-over forest lands mean a great expense to the community and to the state. Consumption of timber resources means removal of sawmills and wood working factories, with consequent loss of population, money and investment. Finding business too light, many branch railroads in work-out timber sections have been forced to discontinue, and the abandonment of adjacent farms and other property has followed.

The agriculture department experts do not believe, however, that the age of wood has been left behind. Chemical research is revealing uses for wood heretofore undreamed of, such as the manufacture of artificial silk, rope and carpets. The next few years, some say, may see the use of wood on a large scale for the production of fuel alcohol to replace gasoline and, in addition, it is believed possible that the abandonment of poor farms and the trend to permit low-producing lands to return to forest may in time reverse the present run-away reduction of forest acreage.

NOVELIST BLAMED FOR ILL REPUTE OF OPALS

CHICAGO, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Opals have lived down the reputation of bad luck long associated with them and have become today one of the most fashionable and popular of gems. P. J. Coffey, president of the National Jewelers' association, said in an address at the annual meeting of the organization here.

"Most people assume that the idea of bad luck attaching to the opal is of immemorial antiquity," said Mr. Coffey. "The fact is it is less than a century old. Sir Walter Scott in one of his last novels, 'Anne of Gelestin,' published in 1829, set the myth going. He introduced into his romance an imaginary opal to which he attributed a mystic malignancy that worked misfortune upon all who wore it. This fiction was the only basis the superstition ever had. But the wild voice of Sir Walter as a novelist and the myth broadcast to the ends of the earth. For centuries before his time the opal had been endowed in popular imagination with the beneficent properties of a talisman.

"There is no authentic record in all history that an opal ever brought misfortune to any one. No tragedy was ever associated with it, except of 1,205,000 bales of 270 pounds each."

that wrought by this fanciful idea in putting into eclipse one of the world's most resplendent jewels and preventing a popularity it otherwise would have enjoyed."

WOULD HELP HEMP GROWERS
MANILA, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The department of agriculture is going to help the hemp growers of the southern islands. It will determine which varieties of hemp plants are best suited for given localities, and make them easily available to the growers. Some plants give 30 per cent. efficiency; others only ten.

Hemp production in 1922 exceeded that of 1921 by 50,000 bales. Nineteen twenty-two saw the harvesting of 1,205,000 bales of 270 pounds each.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

It was a strong and well balanced speech that President Harding made at the Arlington amphitheatre on Memorial day in presence of a vast gathering of veterans. Of course, he paid eloquent tribute to the achievements and sacrifices of the soldiers and expressed the gratitude of the nation to its heroic dead.

But the public is looking for something in the president's utterances relative to the World court, our foreign relations, or our efforts to preserve world peace.

This phase of world conditions was not passed in silence by the president, who despite criticism, seems to have plucked his feet quite solidly upon the World court platform. In this connection he said:

"It is not enough to seek assurance for ourselves. I believe it is a God-given duty to give of our influence to establish the ways of peace throughout the world. We cannot guarantee but we can promote the peaceful adjustment of disputes, we can aid in the establishment of the agencies of peace, we can be influential in committing the world to the triumphs of peace, and make hateful to humankind the spoils of war."

"This is a world relationship we cannot avoid and will not avoid, in the spirit of the America which we rejoice to boast."

All this and other allusions to the need of stabilizing peace would indicate that the president is steering firmly toward the World court issue as one of the main planks of his platform in the national campaign. The nation elected Harding on a platform in which opposition to the League of Nations was the main issue. Next fall, it will be asked to elect him on a platform favoring our entrance to the World court. Most of the arguments urged in opposition to the League will apply equally to the court and, therefore, the electorate is not likely to reverse itself at Harding's request. Rather would it turn to the democratic party for light and leading on matters of foreign relations, the World court and the movements for universal peace.

INFANT MORTALITY

The American Child Health association is making a great effort to reduce infant mortality at all stages and all seasons. It finds that the death rate is greatest in the summer season due to the prevalence of intestinal troubles resulting from heat and usually developing cholera infantum. Nevertheless, it is shown that as a result of the more general education of mothers, the increase of scientific facilities, the service of the district nurses and the milk stations, in addition to the infant health conferences, the rate of infant mortality has been greatly cut down in most of the larger cities.

The rate has been materially reduced in Lowell in recent years; but there is still need of combined effort to save the lives of infants that die every summer for lack of proper care of the food that is necessary for their sustenance and that will not upset their digestive functions in hot weather.

It has been found that many deaths of infants in this city are due either to the ignorance of mothers or the fact that they go to work and leave their infants in charge of others, often of little children that are not capable of taking care of them. Such treatment is actually cruel and should not be tolerated anywhere. Another cause of illness and death among babies in hot weather especially, is the growing lack of breast feeding. The infection of food is one of the primary causes as it is difficult to keep milk fresh in hot weather and when changed, it is simply poison for the infant. Babies are extremely sensitive to changes in temperature and the heat that only renders adults uncomfortable often causes illness in babies, rendering them unable to take food and if the condition be not relieved, they eventually die of weakness, malnutrition or cholera infantum.

SLAP AT HARDING

Very naturally the trouble we have had over seeking pay for the expense of keeping an army on the German border is referred to as an instance of how we are likely to be treated if we were associated with the European powers in the World court or the League of Nations.

From republican headquarters last week was given out a statement to the effect that England was trying to "bilk the United States out of the cost of her Rhine army." It was also intimated that the Washington government would give up trying to collect. Indeed it would seem from this output of the republican national committee, that Uncle Sam was very much nettled. But something happened afterwards that caused the committee to withdraw this statement and announce that an agreement had been signed with the allies amounting to a promise to pay, but stipulating that if the plan didn't work, the United States could abrogate it. Yes, of course, the United States can withdraw from an understanding of that kind much easier than from the League of Nations or even the World court.

The issuance of this statement by the republican national committee was a slap at the president, against whom Chairman John T. Adams has opened war. It appears that unless the president forces the resignation of Adams, he will have lost control of the organization and will find himself opposed instead of supported in the supposed house of his friends.

EVADING THE LAW

Fortunately the United States treasury department has found a way out of enforcing the decision that foreign ships must not enter American ports with liquor aboard. Secretary Mellon decides that liquor can be carried by such ships within the three mile limit for medicinal purposes. Another decision which is to be carried to the highest court, says that there is no restriction upon a physician as to the quantity of liquor he can prescribe for a patient. If both these rulings should go into effect, then it would be in order to open medical dispensaries in which the chief medicine would be some reputable brand of rum or perhaps the still popular old Scotch.

THE RIVER PROJECT

Upon the city solicitor will devolve the responsibility of making a good presentation of the arguments in favor of making the Merrimack river navigable at the hearing to be held in Washington this month. One speaker cannot cover every phase of this important question in a limited time. Mr. Sutherland and other Lawrence advocates of the improvement made very convincing arguments at past hearings on this question, and it is expected that Lawrence and Haverhill in this case also will contribute much to the weight of argument in favor of the project.

LAWRENCE HIGH SCHOOL

Lawrence has had an unpleasant experience in the construction of her new high school. The Dose company, which had the original contract, collapsed financially. Fortunately the city was protected by a bond with the New Amsterdam company to the extent of $125,000. Without a protest this company stepped in and said it would complete the contract held by the Dose company and the J. W. Bishop Construction company of Worcester has been put in charge of the work with the prospect that the contract will be carried out in every detail. The contract price of the school addition was $625,000.

SPEED OF RADIO

You may not believe this, but it is true. A speaker in New York is heard by a radio fan in San Francisco before he is heard by the people in his own audience at the back of the hall in New York.

This is because the audience hears by sound waves which travel only 1126 feet a second, while the radio fan has the sound brought to him by vibrations traveling 186,000 miles a second. The difference in hearing time in this case is only a fraction of a second, but it is hard to believe. It covers the difference in the rate of speed at which sound and radio travel.

DEMOCRATS CARRY DENVER

The election of Ben M. Stapleton, democrat, as mayor of Denver, defeating Mayor Bailey, republican, by 6,120 majority, is not only a large overturn in municipal politics, but is regarded by competent observers as a sure indication that the democrats will carry the election in 1924 for their state and the national ticket, but that it will insure the defeat of Senator Phillips, republican, for re-election. Senator Phillips was the chief backer of Mayor Bailey and depended largely upon retaining control of the city in his reelection campaign.

MEMORIAL DAY

That sermon by Rev. James D. Sherry, former chaplain of the 26th Division, on Memorial day, was certainly strong, patriotic and inspiring. It paid eloquent tribute to the self-sacrifice of the soldier, showing that the things worth striving for are won only by such service, and the sacrifice on Calvary was pointed to as what the Savior did for all mankind. Rev. Fr. Sherry is certainly a staunch friend of the soldier boys. He knows what they suffered and sacrificed.

THE DIRECT WAY

A court appeal reveals that while a jury in Detroit was arguing for hours about whether a certain kind of packing box would burn, a reporter gratified his curiosity and settled the question instantly by applying a lighted match. Yes, it burned.

There is always a swift and direct way of doing things. Too bad, our laws are not written and administered, and our government handled by horse-sense individuals like the young Detroit reporter.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Uncle Sam's bookkeepers are auditing 1,500,000 income tax returns a year. They are about 2,500,000 behind the game. A newspaperman figures out that it will take 50 years to catch up.

Taxpayers would be saved millions if the income tax laws were simplified. The lawyer-politicians who make the laws may say it is impossible, but the Ten Commandments, the basis of all sensible law contain only 10 words, including all explanatory clauses. And no amendments have been necessary.

That a lecturer on ethics and philosophy should have ended his life indicates if he were sane that he had lost faith in his own teaching. There are so many causes of death that it is peculiarly sad to hear of any one committing suicide.

Like every other legitimate organization the K.K.K. is fast tottering to extinction. The states in which it has a foothold can cordially say good-bye.

Our other residents will have to move around so as to familiarize themselves with the new names of public squares.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gould of Haverhill, Vt., have a pet woodchuck which Mr. Gould captured about a year ago when it was young, taking it home in his pocket. It has just come out of its winter hibernation in the cellar and will scuffle and wrestle with Mr. Gould like a puppy. The "chuck" is allowed the run of the house.

The girls in a Sunday school in a church at Nashua, N. H., organized a club which they named the C. I. C. (club in a corner). The boys, not to be outdone, organized one, the B. V. D. club. The girls were very properly shocked until they learned that the letters stood for Behind the Veil Door.

A Thought

In man's most dark extremity, lift succor dawns from heaven.

Got Into All Right

Walters' mental faculties were not overactive in the classroom. A fact which caused his fond parents considerable disappointment. One afternoon he gave them both a very happy surprise when he came out of his room shouting: "I got 100 this afternoon!" "Splendid, darling," exclaimed his mother proudly. "What was it that you got 100 on?" "It was in arithmetic," came the lad's reply.

You Tell Him, Daddy

The clergyman was waxing eloquent on the subject of the "Future State of the Church." As his voice rose in power and volume he made the fathers clasp their hands and say to their wives: "What shall be the future glory of the Church?" A brief pause for breath, and he continued: "I repeat what I said before, 'You tell him, daddy, and let's go.'" exclaimed an entreating voice.

She Was With Her

A girl's club devoted to bridge and general culture had invited an earnest lady to lecture. The earnest lady went to the lecture, and she was with her. She carried enough luggage to make your hair curl. She warmed to her subject, hammered the table and roared the place out of the room. Finally she singled out an attractive girl who seemed to be paying more attention than others. Fixing her eyes on the study eye, the lecturer wound up vehemently: "We must remedy these terrible injustices. Are you with me?" "I'm with you," declared the girl promptly. Let's have a pageant.

He Had Ambition

Unable to read or write, Rev. Dr. William H. Morgan of Greenport, L. I., has won the degrees of A. B., D.D., and LL.D. Born in England, he came to this country when a young boy and went to work in the blast furnaces of Ironton, Penn., when he was 10, having had but one day's schooling in his life. Converted at 21, he went for a year to the Bible school at Ironton. When he was 23 he hired a young schoolteacher to instruct him in the three R's at night, while he worked by day. In two more years he was ready for college, and he was graduated from Hamilton university in three and one-half years and he completed his studies at Drew seminary in three years instead of four.

From a Box

The manager of the big store halted outside the telephone booth. Within he could hear Miss Jones, the typist, speaking: "I love you, dear, and only want you to keep my secret. Yes, my darling, speak to me more!" The girl rang off and stepped out of the booth to confront the angry manager. "Miss Jones," he said, "that telephone has been fixed where it is for the purpose of convenience in conducting business and not for conducting love affairs. You don't let it occur again." The girl froze him with a glance. "I was ordering some new songs for the music department," she explained icily.

Didn't Want Ducks

An actress, who had retired from the stage and had bought a little house in the country, decided to start a chicken farm. Accordingly, acting on the principle that all big businesses have small beginnings, she bought a hen and a setting of 13 eggs. As she had no knowledge of poultry at all, she wrote to a poultry journal, asking how long the eggs would take to hatch out. The paper replied: "Three weeks for chickens and four for ducks." Some weeks later she wrote again to the paper: "Many thanks for your advice. However, at the end of three weeks there were no chickens hatched out, and I was told not to want ducks I took the hen off."

Part of His Lunch

The other day a scientist engaged in the notable discovery of a sandwich placed up a ham sandwich and immediately called around him a group of students. He then proceeded to lecture, directing their attention to its wonderful state of preservation. There were, as he pointed out, unmistakable traces of butter. Evidence of ham, though plainly visible and the bread was far from being petrified. "Of course," he was concluding, "this sandwich is an excellent example of a sandwich member of the party smiled up and remarked: 'I am sorry to hear you say that, professor. That is part of my lunch.'"

A Child Speaks

I think grown-ups are awfully mean, don't you? They know so many things I wish I knew. But when I ask 'em, they just laugh and say: 'Such questions, child! Now run away and play!'

I only ask 'em why the sky is blue. And why the grass is green and if it's true. The little clouds up there, all soft and pink. Are angels dressed for parties, as I think!

And just how many stars are in the sky. And if they really are God's fireflies. Or are they little peepholes in the sky. To let God and the angels all look through?

And I'm so interested in pollywogs. How is it that they ever turn to frogs? And does a worm just hate to be a worm? Is that what makes 'em all twist so. And squirm?

And why is it that fishes don't catch cold? And what is it that makes gold fishes gold? And where do dreams come from? I'd love to know. And when I wake up, where is it they go?

And lots of other things I can't think now. Just what that makes me wonder why I ask. But when I ask the grown-ups, they say: 'Woe-o-o-o!'

I can't just say, dear, and they never know. ROSALEE MONTGOMERY in New York Times

AWAIT PROBE OF STOCK FIRM

Thousands of Investors and Prosecuting Officials Await Accountant's Report

Jones & Baker, Big Curb House, Forced Into Involuntary Receivership

NEW YORK, June 1.—Thousands of investors and prosecuting officials were awaiting eagerly today the report of accountants investigating the brokerage firm of Jones & Baker, after it had been forced into involuntary receivership.

Upon their first conference with the directors of the firm, which did almost half of all the business conducted on the curb market, officials said they believed investors would get back more on the dollar than has been paid by any big brokerage bankrupt in some time. Company spokesmen expressed confidence that 100 cents on the dollar would be paid.

The bankruptcy proceedings grew out of a "secret" investigation of the firm's mode of doing business, started by the word of the investigation got about and investors began to withdraw. Impelling some creditors to force appointment of a receivership that orderly liquidation might be brought about.

Behind the firm lies an interesting personal story. It concerns William H. Jones, the son of a Stratford, Ill., blacksmith, the senior partner, whose face was unfamiliar to the patrons of the curb and to many of the business men with whom the firm did business. About a decade ago he was employed by Charles A. Stoneham, now president of the New York Glants, who had a brokerage concern then in Chicago. They disagreed and Jones organized his own firm and set it up directly opposite that of Stoneham.

Jones, known to the street as "the man of mystery," preferred to remain out of sight and neither he nor his present partner, Jackson W. Sells, ever appeared on the floor. Jones taught a Sunday school in the Presbyterian church in Deal, N. J., where he has a home in addition to his town house.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Inconsistent Mr. Malone
Richmond Times-Dispatch: Consistency is not one of Dudley Malone's jewels. The former collector of the port of New York has a broadside at masculine rule of the world, charging that men in their management of affairs have proved themselves unfit to govern, preparatory to announcing his own candidacy for president of the United States. He says he will depend upon the women to elect him.

It may be that Mr. Malone has evidence in himself of man's impotency. But his wife formerly was Miss Doris Stevens, a militant suffragist. Perhaps he knows by actual experience the pitiful inability of his sex to run the business of any household, whether it be individual or national.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

Matter of Courses

I'm off of pork, I'm off of beef,
I'm off of all potatoes;
I lunch upon a lettuce leaf,
I dine on stewed tomatoes.
But—gee, that tenderloin looks great,
I guess perhaps I'll try it,
Just put a little on my plate,
It's awful hard to diet.

Fritters I really shouldn't touch,
Still one or two won't harm me,
Scalloped potatoes—they have such
Ability to charm me.
That maybe I'll try just a few;
They're fine, I can't deny it,
They're fattening, I know, but who Can stand a rigid diet?

Ice cream and coffee—no, ah no,
I mustn't, well—I shouldn't;
Still as you seem to urge me so,
I'll take some—gosh, who wouldn't?
In fact, with no more ifs and buts,
Though dictators may decry it,
I'll go the route from soup to nuts;
Tomorrow I will diet.

It, neither, it is believed, was Christ; the position of a loan shark trying to enforce a contemptible claim.

A Lawsuit Between Nations
Boston Herald: When Senator Borah was in Boston last week he made one of his "great hits" against the permanent court of international justice by describing it as "a court of arbitration, not a judicial tribunal at all mission subject to Belgian priority, and that the United States shall not pass from laid down in Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence." That indictment was driven home repeatedly by the speaker, and in one of his accusing sentences he insisted upon his refusal to give any countenance to such a court by saying that "you cannot get into the court except for all the troops' upkeep, and ever since that trickery it has been put in the litigation."

SCIENTISTS STILL AT ODDS OVER RELATIVITY

PARIS, June 1.—(By the Associated Press) A division in scientific circles has been made here by the relativity theory of Einstein, challenging old conceptions of time and space. Former Premier Poincaré, first a mathematician and later a politician, is threatening to drop politics long enough to prove that the earth has stopped turning. In fact he asserts that it never did turn. M. Painlevé has a brand new theory of the universe based on mechanics. He says Einstein is right, except that he is not right enough.

Professor Langevin, physicist of the College of France, inventor of the sounding machine by which ships may be piloted in any sea, has made what his friends describe as a religion of the Einstein theory, combating old theories and all others with much ardor. Louis Bleriot, the great permanent secretary of the Academy of Sciences, from his retreat in the Institute palace, has sought to dole out his own theory of the world. However, he is inclined to the belief that the old-timers were fairly correct. Director Baillaud, of the Paris Observatory, says that in many respects science is still like Duguesne, stumbling along with his lantern. "As for me," he added, "I have no opinion as to the relative merits of the discussion. It would take me two years of my life to become familiar with the Einstein theory, and as I am 72, I really haven't the time to spare."

BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE VOTES TO SUSPEND VACATIONS FOR LABORERS

In order that there may be no interruptions in the service of the board of public service at a meeting late yesterday afternoon voted to suspend all vacations for laborers in departments under its control until a later date. So many applications for vacations have already been received that it would greatly hinder the work as laid out if granted now.

The board does not say that no vacations will be granted to those who desire them, but will exercise its own judgment as to the proper time for such respite.

After a lengthy private conference the board went into session at 4:45 p. m.

Councilor Stearns requested the repair of a number of streets in Centralville. Referred to next date of hearings.

A communication from the mayor called attention to the need of painting flag poles near the city stables. Referred to the superintendent of streets.

Pres. Gallagher of the city council appeared before the board to favor dropping of edgewise at the corner of Pine and Court streets to allow entrance to a garage. The councilor was advised by the board that a great number of similar petitions are on hand and that it is impossible to give them attention at present.

It was explained that the edgewise gangs are laying new stones daily for people who are paying for them and although petitions for the removal of stones may be attended to later on in the season, it will be impossible and inadvisable, as well, to consider them now.

It was brought out that a great many requests for annual vacations have been received by the city engineer and other members of the board.

Chairman Dennis J. Murphy felt the street department would be seriously handicapped and sorely crippled if vacations were allowed now and the other members of the board expressed similar views.

The upshot of the discussion was a decision to allow no vacations for laborers at present and not until the season's rush of work has abated and the departments can conveniently operate with reduced personnel.

Under the law city laborers are granted two weeks' vacation with pay annually, but in this case the time of taking such respite is discretionary with the public service board.

The engineer was authorized to confer with the land and buildings department relative to restoration of the old Durkee house.

Miss Mary M. Burns was elected a clerk in the office of the engineering department at a salary of $15 per week.

George H. Barrus, consulting engineer, reported his findings after an examination of the four boilers at the West Sixth street pumping station. According to the report submitted to the board, the boilers are unfit for heavy duty and he recommended their replacement. New ones should be equipped with apparatus for the use of fuel oil. The report was taken under advisement.

Routine petitions were read and referred to the proper officials for enactment.

PROBATE COURT

Justice John C. Longart occupied the bench at a special session of the probate court which was held at the Gorham street courthouse this forenoon. Several cases were called and continued and the will of the late Mary Ann Gandy of Lowell was admitted. There were two administrations granted, that of John S. Silva of Lowell and that of Mary A. Bachan, also of Lowell.

CHILD'S HIP FRACTURED

John Keene, aged 6 years and residing at 66 Lilley avenue, sustained a fractured hip yesterday, when he was struck by an automobile at the junction of Lilley avenue and Cumberland road. The automobile was being operated by Edwin J. Bernier of 766 Broadway. The little fellow was given first aid by Dr. Gaffney and was later taken to St. John's hospital.

TRYING TO PUT PARTY NAME BILL ACROSS

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, June 1.—Deeper efforts are being made today by the Liberal Republican league and the Massachusetts Federation of Good Government clubs to secure the necessary 15,000 signatures which must be filed with the secretary of state by 5 o'clock this afternoon to put before the voters of the state on a referendum the party-name bill.

The party-name bill, which passed this legislature, provides that a party name such as republican or democratic, cannot be used without the consent of the state committee of the party.

Once the bill was passed, persons interested in politics realized that they had given the right of use of the party name to a committee which, even if it represented a small minority of the party, could control the name.

Opposition to the bill sprang up in many quarters and prominent members including four former attorneys-general and four former governors of the commonwealth, signed the first referendum proceedings. Up to this morning between 5,000 and 10,000 of the signatures necessary to put the matter before the people on a referendum had been obtained with "three thousand more in prospect."

Workers throughout the state today were making every effort to obtain and bring in the other needed signatures.

If proponents of this referendum measure are successful in getting the matter directly before the voters it will be one of the three matters which citizens will vote on by a referendum. The other two will be the tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline, the revenue to be used for the upkeep of the roads, and the commonwealth, and the referendum on a state liquor enforcement bill.

HELD WHIST PARTY IN PARISH HALL

A very successful whist party in aid of the coming garden party was held last evening at St. Columba's parish hall, under the direction of Mrs. Patrick T. Brogan. The winners of the ladies' prizes were Miss Theresa Lavry, Mrs. J. A. Connor; Miss Molly Barry and Miss Jeanette Tyrrell. The men's prizes were captured by Andrew Doyle, Andrew Molloy and Geo. Walworth. The beautiful and appropriate prizes were donated by the following firms: The A. G. Pollard Co., The Bon Marche Dry Goods Co., The Gagnon Co., MacCortney Apparel Shop, D. S. O'Brien Co., P. F. Devine, and Sarra Bros.

At the conclusion of whist a pleasing musical program was rendered including solos by Mrs. Nora Regan Longtin, John P. Roane and Fred Cummings. Miss Leona Spellman was the accompanist.

RECOMMITTED TO THE LYMAN SCHOOL

Stanley Plekox 16 years old, of Dracut, on parole from the Lyman school, was ordered re-committed to that institution when he was convicted, in the juvenile court this morning, of pocket picking. Two companions, implicated in similar transactions, appeared sentence to the industrial school for boys at Shirley.

Plekox was arrested by Officer Quinlan last Saturday noon on the complaint of a young girl who told the officer she had been relieved of $18 while shopping in a downtown store.

Plekox admitted his guilt after a grilling and volunteered to have two co-workers brought in. Going out with Capt. Petrie to find his comrades, he escaped and was re-located Sunday afternoon in Dracut by Officer Owen Conway. He confessed to the theft of about 15 pocketbooks and nine pay envelopes during the past five weeks. It was said that one of the pocketbooks contained $125.

Amateur Ball

The boys of upper Gorham street have organized for the season and would like to hear some of the fast teams in the city, the Indians preferred. Call 6434-M and ask for Bill.

The Elks would like a game with the American Juniors for next Monday evening at Duxbury's playground. The lineup is as follows: Cohen, O. Lawson, P. Santos, W. Lawson, 2b, Gannell, ss, Currier, 3b, Bowman, 1b, McCormick, cf, McLean, rf. If challenge is accepted, answer through this paper.

The senior Y.M.H.A. journeyed to Manchester, N. H. Wednesday and defeated the Y.M.H.A. team of that city by the score of 9 to 7 in a hard fought game. Myers pitched excellent ball for the winners and the Harris brothers featured with the winnow. Next Sunday, the Y.M.H.A. will play the Lawrence Y.M.H.A. at Methuen. All players are requested to report at 10 o'clock.

BALL GAME AT SILESIA PARK TOMORROW

The strong Silesia Mills team of North Chelmsford, which won a brilliant 2 to 1 victory over the Millstreams of Chelsea Memorial day, will engage in its second contest of the season with the East Somerville team at Silesia park tomorrow afternoon. The visiting team will go to North Chelmsford with an imposing record and fully intent on taking the measure of "Barney" Gilmore's ball tossers.

To the many Lowell fans who could not attend the opening game last Wednesday, tomorrow's get-together will provide the opportunity of witnessing one of the best ball clubs ever assembled in these parts as well as a baseball diamond of extraordinary excellence and one made to order for fast play. The new field is a beauty in every respect and makes fast playing imperative. Special electric car accommodations will be afforded all patrons tomorrow afternoon, while the state highways are in excellent shape for automobiles. There were hundreds of machines passing through the gates during Wednesday's affairs.

FIELD DAY AT THE GREENHALGE SCHOOL

Yesterday was gala day at the Greenhalge school with the students of the school the guests of the Parent-Teacher association, the following officers of which acted as hosts of the day: Mrs. Philip Gungars, president; Mrs. Adolphe Cosselle, vice-president; Miss Agnes Dudley, secretary; and Thomas Garvey, treasurer.

The playground in back of the school was the scene of the event and prizes were offered for each grade of the school. Grade 1 held a rabbit race which was won by James White and Sophie Sudol; grade 2 held a bean race, with Raymond Pratte and Grace Rakip the winners. The third grade participated in a three-legged race with Jennie Stee and Harold Nolan the winners. A crab race and sack race featured the fourth grades' exhibition. The first was won by Elmer Lerose and Marie Emard and the second by Helen the Lincoln street playground at 10 o'clock.

The Butler Thirde won an easy, 9 to 2 victory over the Young Judeans yesterday. Sharkey featured at bat while Eng and Brady starred in the field. Games are wanted with 14-year-old outfits. Call 5337-M and ask for Joe.

The Aces have reorganized and wish to engage in twilight games with 17-year-old teams, the Kenwood Rovers, Willis stars preferred. The Aces lineup is composed of Joyal, Moylan, E. Cohen, Myers, Brand, Finneral, Sander, Gerson, Borash, Greene, Steinberg and M. Cohen. For games, answer through this column.

The Washington A.C. will cross bats with the Kimball Shoe Co. team of Lawrence in the down-river city Sunday. All players are requested to report at Lord's tobacco store at 12.45 p. m.

Plan and Raymond Fontana. A wand race held by the sixth grade was won by Grace Higgins and Leonel Peiland and the seventh, eighth and ninth grades joined in a three-legged race that was won by Marie Gallagher, Solie Wilkins, George Itelley and Edward Swette.

The judges in the races were Miss Olga Shay and Paul Sullivan.

Sarah and Jeanette Steinberg, pupils of Chelsea, featured in the exhibition of classical dancing that won the hearts of the audience. A costume parade was another feature of the afternoon and was judged by Miss Katherine Gillick. First prize went to Margaret Crowe, in a blue and yellow Japanese costume; and Sarah and Jeanette Steinberg received honorable mention. Prize for the funniest costume went to Lillian O'Neill and honorable mention was made of Ernest Lamour, who appeared as a jack-in-the-box.

The final event on the program was an exhibition by the freshman tumblers of the high school and they furnished considerable comedy by their antics.

Police Officer Edward Hayes assisted Principal John G. Walcott in caring for the children, and a committee from the Parent-Teacher organization served ice cream, cake, bananas, oranges, and other delicacies to the children who took part in the affair.

Mrs. Elita Cluff was chairman of the social committee and Miss Katherine Gillick had charge of the program. Principal John G. Walcott assisted greatly in making the affair a complete success.

THE CENTRALVILLE TWILIGHT LEAGUE

The Centralville Twilight League, which enjoyed great success last year, opened its 1923 season on the Centralville Social club grounds last evening with the Crescent Hills winning over the Ponies by the score of 22 to 5.

The league this year is composed of five fast teams, including the Crescent Hills, Ponies, Dixwells, Beacons and Centralville Social club. The Crescent Hills have open dates on Saturdays and Sundays and would like to hear from local semi-pro teams for games in those days. Arrangements may be made with Manager William Vincent, Crescent Hill Association, 16 Lily avenue.

TO ABOLISH DAYLIGHT SAVING

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 1.—The state senate last night passed a bill to abolish daylight saving throughout the state. The bill goes to the house.

ALTITUDE WILL NOT AFFECT FIGHTERS

By BILL BREITENSTEIN
SHELBY, Mont., June 1.—Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons can stand the altitude.

The arena's elevation—2852 feet above sea level—will not affect their wind in the slightest.

Both will be acclimated thoroughly to Shelby's rare air when they step into the ring on the afternoon of July 4, leading northern Montana physical trainers.

Then Jack, coming from Utah, naturally is accustomed to a high elevation, the doctors point out. And Tommy, they explain, began to fortify himself against it on his recent theatrical tour.

"True, the fighters will have to breathe deeper to get the same amount of oxygen they get at lower altitudes," says Dr. J. B. Reynolds of Great Falls, who's on the ground as official physician. "But I don't believe they will notice it."

"Now at Butte, it's different. The 6000-foot level there often perceptibly slows up eastern boxers. A 3000-foot altitude, though, never has proven detrimental to trained athletes, as far as I know."

Dr. D. S. MacKenzie, Havre; Dr. C. D. Howell, Valler, and Dr. C. J. Brenne and Dr. D. K. Woods, both of Great Falls, share Dr. Reynolds' views. All have looked after participants in various bouts throughout the state.

PRESS AGENT SUES WILLARD FOR $12,000

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Gene Doyle, formerly publicity agent for Jess Willard, announces here he has filed in New York a suit against his former employer for $12,000 which he asserts is due him for services rendered.

Doyle said he persuaded Willard to attempt a comeback and that it was publicly which he gave Willard that brought him offers for bouts.

Willard began light training here yesterday for his bout with Louis Angel Firpo, July 7.

MANCHESTER AND LOWELL TOMORROW

The Manchester, N. H., high school ball team will play the Lowell team tomorrow at 3.15 p. m. on Alumni Field. This is the last home game of the year and Coach "Timmy" Liston has high hopes of his team's winning the game. Out of ten starts, Lowell has won seven, being defeated by Lawrence twice and by St. John's Prep, an average of .80 for the season, which is higher than it has been able to get for some years past.

AMERICAN OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, June 1.—For the first time in several years, the American open golf championship is to be held at Inwood, Long Island, probably will lack international competition, though national interest promises to be keener than ever.

British professional stars have added to the competitive interest for the past three years but unless some of the younger stars, such as Audrey Roemer and A. C. Haynes, decide to try their luck on this side, there is little likelihood this year of another invasion. The veterans have practically abandoned all thought of making another trip.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR UNVEILING OF MEMORIAL TO HEROES OF THE ACRE DISTRICT

Final plans in connection with the unveiling of the memorial to the soldier-heroes of the Acre district and the dedication of two squares Sunday afternoon, were made at a special meeting of the committee in charge last night. The finance committee reported that the drive for funds was meeting with unusual success and will be brought to a close tomorrow with the suggestion that all pledges be turned over to members of the committee as soon as possible.

It is desired that all persons wishing to contribute machines for the parade should get into communication with Broadway club officials immediately. The machines will be utilized to convey G.I.A.R. veterans to the parade and will report at the Broadway club at 2 p. m.

The committee is indebted to the local lodge of Elks for supplying the 13th Infantry band for a concert in front of the club at 7.45 p. m. The Elks will also provide refreshments for band members in the Elks' rooms in Middlesex street.

During the parade down Broadway the marchers will halt at Suffolk street, where the legion delegation will move to the old Mann school to dedicate Joseph Worthing square. Just before the exercises at the monument participants will dedicate John Leo Connolly square at the corner of Wilde and Fletcher streets.

The committee on decorations hopes that Acre residents who have not yet made arrangements for decorating their stores and residences will do so as soon as possible. Eugene A. Fitzgerald is in charge of the monument exercises. The monument was placed in position yesterday. The reception committee is headed by Michael Kelly.

The following is the roster of the parade:

Plan and Raymond Fontana. A wand race held by the sixth grade was won by Grace Higgins and Leonel Peiland and the seventh, eighth and ninth grades joined in a three-legged race that was won by Marie Gallagher, Solie Wilkins, George Itelley and Edward Swette.

The judges in the races were Miss Olga Shay and Paul Sullivan.

Sarah and Jeanette Steinberg, pupils of Chelsea, featured in the exhibition of classical dancing that won the hearts of the audience. A costume parade was another feature of the afternoon and was judged by Miss Katherine Gillick. First prize went to Margaret Crowe, in a blue and yellow Japanese costume; and Sarah and Jeanette Steinberg received honorable mention. Prize for the funniest costume went to Lillian O'Neill and honorable mention was made of Ernest Lamour, who appeared as a jack-in-the-box.

The final event on the program was an exhibition by the freshman tumblers of the high school and they furnished considerable comedy by their antics.

Police Officer Edward Hayes assisted Principal John G. Walcott in caring for the children, and a committee from the Parent-Teacher organization served ice cream, cake, bananas, oranges, and other delicacies to the children who took part in the affair.

Mrs. Elita Cluff was chairman of the social committee and Miss Katherine Gillick had charge of the program. Principal John G. Walcott assisted greatly in making the affair a complete success.

THE CENTRALVILLE TWILIGHT LEAGUE

The Centralville Twilight League, which enjoyed great success last year, opened its 1923 season on the Centralville Social club grounds last evening with the Crescent Hills winning over the Ponies by the score of 22 to 5.

The league this year is composed of five fast teams, including the Crescent Hills, Ponies, Dixwells, Beacons and Centralville Social club. The Crescent Hills have open dates on Saturdays and Sundays and would like to hear from local semi-pro teams for games in those days. Arrangements may be made with Manager William Vincent, Crescent Hill Association, 16 Lily avenue.

TO ABOLISH DAYLIGHT SAVING

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 1.—The state senate last night passed a bill to abolish daylight saving throughout the state. The bill goes to the house.

MANCHESTER AND LOWELL TOMORROW

The Manchester, N. H., high school ball team will play the Lowell team tomorrow at 3.15 p. m. on Alumni Field. This is the last home game of the year and Coach "Timmy" Liston has high hopes of his team's winning the game. Out of ten starts, Lowell has won seven, being defeated by Lawrence twice and by St. John's Prep, an average of .80 for the season, which is higher than it has been able to get for some years past.

AMERICAN OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, June 1.—For the first time in several years, the American open golf championship is to be held at Inwood, Long Island, probably will lack international competition, though national interest promises to be keener than ever.

British professional stars have added to the competitive interest for the past three years but unless some of the younger stars, such as Audrey Roemer and A. C. Haynes, decide to try their luck on this side, there is little likelihood this year of another invasion. The veterans have practically abandoned all thought of making another trip.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR UNVEILING OF MEMORIAL TO HEROES OF THE ACRE DISTRICT

Final plans in connection with the unveiling of the memorial to the soldier-heroes of the Acre district and the dedication of two squares Sunday afternoon, were made at a special meeting of the committee in charge last night. The finance committee reported that the drive for funds was meeting with unusual success and will be brought to a close tomorrow with the suggestion that all pledges be turned over to members of the committee as soon as possible.

It is desired that all persons wishing to contribute machines for the parade should get into communication with Broadway club officials immediately. The machines will be utilized to convey G.I.A.R. veterans to the parade and will report at the Broadway club at 2 p. m.

The committee is indebted to the local lodge of Elks for supplying the 13th Infantry band for a concert in front of the club at 7.45 p. m. The Elks will also provide refreshments for band members in the Elks' rooms in Middlesex street.

During the parade down Broadway the marchers will halt at Suffolk street, where the legion delegation will move to the old Mann school to dedicate Joseph Worthing square. Just before the exercises at the monument participants will dedicate John Leo Connolly square at the corner of Wilde and Fletcher streets.

The committee on decorations hopes that Acre residents who have not yet made arrangements for decorating their stores and residences will do so as soon as possible. Eugene A. Fitzgerald is in charge of the monument exercises. The monument was placed in position yesterday. The reception committee is headed by Michael Kelly.

The following is the roster of the parade:

CASEYS TRIM BROADWAYS—LAWRENCE HIGH BEATS LOWELL HIGH

LOWELL HIGH NOSED OUT BY DOWN RIVER RIVALS IN GREAT GAME

Lawrence High Gathers Four Hits in Ninth for One Run, Breaking 3 to 3 Tie and Landing on Top by Final Score of 4 to 3—O'Day Stars for Lowell

In the presence of a frantic crowd of baseball spectators who crowded the grand stand at Alumni field yesterday afternoon, Lawrence high turned back the scrappy Lowell team in one of the most thrilling school contests ever staged on the diamond between these two bitter rivals. It was any man's game until Captain O'Day of the Lowell team popped out to the Lawrence third baseman, closing a game replete with hitting and fielding sensations and a multitude of hairline decisions.

The contest was free from squabbling in spite of the number of close decisions handed by Arbitrator Dan Barry, official umpire of many of the big college contests. It was a game of games, that contained everything supposed to give the fan a thrill, but from the home view point it lacked but one element, that of victory. Both teams showed the effects of careful drilling in the fine points of the game, hook slides, lightning like runs to the bases, clever blocking at the plate, and other things expected of a college club, but generally unlooked for in a high school outfit. Enthusiasm such as has not been seen at the high school contests for many years was much in evidence. The organized cheers of the students and the scattered shouts of loyal followers of the Lowell players could be heard some distance from the field. At times the noise was deafening, particularly when the home team had men on the bases and a run appeared to be in the offing. Lawrence was supported with a large delegation of rooters who contributed to the fullest extent of their lungs, when their favorites were in a position to register.

Smith eliminated Jordan the first rival batter to face him via the strikeout route in the opening inning. Graney grounded out to O'Day at third and Higgins lined a single between first and second, moved along to the keystone sack on a passed ball and tailed on a wild pitch. The runner was declared safe on a close decision at the plate. It was a cheap run, which never should have been counted. Barry grounded out to the mound. Alexander allowed three straight ones to rally unmolested across the plate and he retired to the bench. O'Day reeled the ball through short for a single. Willard rammed the ball through the pitcher's legs and McHale clouted the third successive hit into short, the fielder making a great stop of the hard hit ball. The bases were filled, but on three hits no runs had been scored and it looked like a rout for the visitors. Davis popped to the catcher and O'Day hit to the short fielder, forcing Willard to second for the third out. A glorious opportunity in score had been lost.

Christian led off in the second with a double into right center. Lahey moved him along to third with a well executed sacrifice and Twomey scored the runner with a sacrifice fly into O'Day's hands. The outfielder made a perfect peg to the plate, but the runner slid under Carr the receiver, and was declared safe. Moran ended the frame with a grounder to second. Lawrence earned its run in this frame by playing the game. Lowell tied the game in the second and for a time it looked as though they would salt the contest before the side was retired. The catcher booted Lahey's swinging hit that rolled along the first base line. Carr laid down a sacrifice, but the play to force the runner at second was a bit slow, and first and second were occupied. Smith laid down another bunt and the big pitcher got tangled in his feet and the runners were safe all around. With the bases populated and no one out, in passing, Barry found the way blocked by the huge form of Twomey, without hesitation, the Lowell player crashed the obstruction, and cleared it off the base, the ball sailed into the outfield and the runner made second, and then third, when the throw to the middle station went wild. O'Day tied the score with a hit into left field. Barry ended the frame with a fly to the second baseman. The Lowell rooters were in a state of frenzy at this stage of the game, and needless to say the cocky visitors were highly excited.

Both teams strive with might and main to break the deadlock through the sixth, seventh and eighth frames, but crossed the plate, and the mar the serenity of the occasion. It was the fatal ninth that blasted the hopes of a Lowell victory, and ended a perfect ball game. Higgins laid down a bunt in front of the plate and was cut down at first. Barry hit into short, the ball taking a bad hop over Davis' head, for a single. Christian slammed the third left. O'Day, O'Day travelled over after the hit, oreezes, but O'Day clouted the ball into left field. Barry scored, but Carr was nipped at the plate by the catcher who had the runner blocked away from safety. Willard and McHale were passed, the last second ticket forcing a runner over the rubber. Davis lined the ball into centerfield, apparently a sure hit, but Moran was off with the crack of the bat and the sphere settled into his catches for the third out. Neither pitcher was in danger in the third inning, only three stickers stepping to the plate in each half. Higgins broke the tie in the fourth when he passed Barry, the third out shot over the left field fence, the ball clearing the barricade by feet. Fast plays by O'Day and Davis cut short the rally of the visiting aggregation.

Lowell tied the game in the fifth with two men down. Davis was safe on the pitcher's foot of his grounder, and in passing Barry found the way blocked by the huge form of Twomey, without hesitation, the Lowell player crashed the obstruction, and cleared it off the base, the ball sailed into the outfield and the runner made second, and then third, when the throw to the middle station went wild. O'Day tied the score with a hit into left field. Barry ended the frame with a fly to the second baseman. VICTORY FOR THE LOWELL ALL STARS

At Bunting park Memorial day, the Lowell All Stars defeated the Cambridge Portuguese-American soccer team by the score of 3 to 2. The consistent team work of the locals was responsible for the victory over the visiting team which is a member of the Boston District Soccer league. Acting Captain Samuel Campbell was presented a large silver loving cup in token of his team's win.

"SILVER JAW" SHEEP'S BONE, AVERS CRIQUI

By N. E. A. Service
NEW YORK, June 1—Eugene Criqui hasn't a silver jaw.

But a bone from a sheep has replaced the part of his lower jaw the Germans shot away in the fighting at Verdun.

The story that he had a silver jaw started from the fact that silver wire was used to hold the grinded sheep's bone in place while it was growing in as part of Criqui's shattered jaw. The sheep's bone has been there so long now, Criqui says, that it feels just like his own, except the jaw seems stronger than ever.

The grinded bone is right at the point where a couple of teeth landed their kazo punches earlier in his career.

THIRD STRAIGHT FOR CINCINNATI

Pat Moran's Reds Seem to Have Found Themselves—Again Beat Cubs

Brooklyn Continues Winning Form—Athletics Slip Back to Third Place

NEW YORK, June 1.—Now come Pat Moran and his Cincinnati Reds. The Reds aren't exactly emulating the Brooklyn Robins in their own league or the Philadelphia Athletics in the American, since Cincinnati was preseason rated as a likely combination. But having begun woefully weak, the present spirit of the Reds is notable.

Bad weather aided other teams in keeping down the Reds but within the last week or so, they seem to have found themselves. In winning their third straight victory over Chicago, yesterday, the 3 to 2 Cincinnati advanced to fifth place, two points within St. Louis' insecure notch in the first division.

Brooklyn kept on its winning form, trouncing Boston, 3 to 2, and keeping ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat Pittsburgh, 4 to 1. The Brooklyn contest was notable for Marquard's effectiveness against Zach Wheat, leading National league batsman who failed to hit for the first time in 21 games.

Jack Bentley, whose ineffectiveness at times has caused New York fans to question the wisdom of paying $65,000 for him to Baltimore, won his third game out of seven, beating the weak Philadelphia Quakers, 5 to 1.

The Philadelphia Athletics were little because of their double defeat on Memorial Day, they slipped into third place, behind Cleveland, was trouncing Chicago, 4 to 1, through the timely hitting of Manager Tris Speaker.

The New York Yankees advanced further into the league lead, trouncing the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 1, by hitting safely in its 13th consecutive game, Detroit lost to St. Louis, 5 to 3, because of poor pitching.

K. OF C. OVERCOME SEVEN RUN LEAD AND BEAT BROADWAYS 13 TO 8

"Caseys" Stage Great Rally and Turn Apparent Defeat Into One-sided Victory—Duffy Relieves Daly in Box and Twirls Fine Game—First Victory of Season for K. of C.

Knocking out 18 hits for a total of 25 bases, the Knights of Columbus baseball team overcame a seven run lead and beat the Broadways in the first two innings of play in last night's Twilight league game on the South common and defeated the Acre boys by the one-sided score of 13 to 8.

Included in the "Casey" total of base hits were a home run, a triple and two two-baggers, all coming at critical moments and showing the team may be down but never out. It was one of the most sensational "comebacks" yet witnessed on the old ball field with the Knights of Columbus helplessly beaten in the first two frames, only to return to form in the latter stages and leave the park with a hard earned victory.

"Packy" Daly was the pitching selection of the Knights. He was off to a considerable degree and remained on duty for two innings, just enough to allow the Broadways to take what looked like a commanding lead. Duffy played second and third base, and last night he started at the hot corner and then moved over to the little elevation in the center of the diamond. He plays all positions with equal success, and his entrance into the box last night proved a disastrous event for the Broadways. The latter started Tilton on the hill and he went along fairly well for a while, but he was hit for a run in the second and third which caused his retirement in favor of Mannagan, whose reception was none too gentle.

The scoring began in the first inning. Keyes went out on a fast play, Duffy to Lemoine, the big first baseman picking the ball out of the dirt for the extinction. Scanlon, Textile school player, accepted a free ticket and pilfered second. Joy, another textile man, walked, and both runners scored on a slashing single by Turcotte. Tilton connected for a busy three base walkup to center and Harry O'Connor singled, bringing across the fifth run of the frame and placing the Broadways in an advantageous position at such an early stage of the game.

The big lead attained here was temporary only, for Broadway went ahead two more in her next turn at bat. Keyes started the fireworks with a single and was sacrificed by Scanlon. "Black" Gilmore, the snappy captain of the newly organized Adams Mills team of North Chelmsford, took hold of one of Italy's grooves and the pill went sailing to the pond for a homer. Coming to bat in the last half of the second, the Knights were seven runs in the rear, but three markers tended to alleviate the situation. Lemoine got on by virtue of a single to center and Daly did likewise, both boys crossing the pan on Purcell's clip to right. "Franko" registered on Birkenhead's two-sacker and the score stood 10 to 3.

Matters were evened up and one added for good measure in the following round when the "Casey" bats bounced the home side to all corners of the lot and made things unpleasant for Tilton. Five runs materialized as the result of the monster barrage of hits. Duffy showed the way by singling and Lemoine rapped out a stinging three bagger to deep left center, scoring "Joe". Daly put Lemoine across with a single, and Birkenhead's second two-bagger of the evening, O'Brien's single and hits of like dimension by Sousa and Dillon accounted for three more tallies and the old ball game. The Knights batted around in this inning and continued the onslaught by slamming a wicked drive through right center for a home run.

The remaining Casey runs were scored in the fifth on a hit-by-pitched ball, singles by Lemoine, Birkenhead and O'Brien, each of whom got their third hit of the game in this period. Broadways last hope vanished in the fourth when one run proved the extent of their campaign. Keyes was safe on a blow to third and Scanlon singled to left. There were three on when Gilmore was hit by a pitching ball and Duffy forced in the "Pewee" when he hit Joy. The next three men were out and a terrible situation passed without the expected upset. The game ended in the seventh, with Duffy having three strikeouts to his credit. The score:

WILLS QUITS TRUCK TO TRAIN FOR DEMPSEY

NEW YORK, June 1.—There were some heavy hearts along the Chelsea freight docks today.

Harry Wills, champion longshoreman, put aside his hand truck last night, to resume his title of heavy-weight negro boxing champion of the world in preparation for a title bout with Jack Dempsey—the bout for which he has been quietly waiting for years.

Wills and his manager, Paddy Mullins, have taken literally the promise of Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, that the titleholder will meet Wills next providing he is champion after he meets Tom Gillsen. The state boxing commission is understood to be preparing to give a decision on the proposal to hold the bout in this state. Wills started training today.

AMATEUR ATHLETES TO TAKE MONEY

ROME, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.) In Europe the professional athlete is virtually unknown, and as a result amateurs are coming to expect, and even demand, indirect money payments for their services.

Take football for instance. Sometimes 50,000 people will pay gate money to witness an amateur game and the players are loath to see all this money fatten the purses of the promoters.

The problem of dealing with the amateur who has developed into a star, realizes that he is a drawing card and demands pay, was taken up recently at a meeting of the International Olympic committee. Many of the countries, including Holland, Sweden, Denmark and Austria, presented their problems of dealing with these stars. The committee decided that under no consideration should an Olympic athlete be given pay, but they left the definition of amateur and professional to each individual country.

THE LOVES TO WORK
LONDON, June 1.—Employers of Robert Joseph, 31, a brewery worker at Burton-on-Trent, have won a 30-year battle to compel him to retire in favor of a younger man. Up until recently he refused to quit. Nothing but work, he said, could satisfy him.

Ninety-five per cent of a cent is copper, and the rest is tin and zinc.

EIGHT THOROUGHBREDS AND PONY PERISHED

CLEVELAND, June 1.—Owners and trainers were checking up their stables today in an effort to learn if any of their horses were among the eight thoroughbreds and a pony burned to death in a fire which destroyed five barns at Maple Heights race track here yesterday.

One of the dead animals is believed to be Pinocchio, but this could not be verified until several horses, which could not be located last night, were rounded up today. They were among the hundred odd that were liberated when the fire was raging and fled through woods and farms near the track.

Postlight, a 10-year-old gelding by Hamburg and Huron II, a seven-year-old gelding by Swaeber, were probably the best known of the dead animals. Postlight had been liberated, but returned to the burning barn. Others killed were Salsanna, Mambi, The Viking, Long Island and Shortstop. The dead animals belonged to the stables of A. S. Eastman of Toledo and J. A. Parsons of Cheyenne, Wyo. The loss will run over $100,000, it is estimated.

INVITATION GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

BALTIMORE, Md., June 1.—Match play in the annual invitation golf tournament at the Baltimore Country club began today among 48 pairs who successfully qualified through yesterday's qualifying round.

D. Clarke Corkran, of the Huntingdon Valley Country club, Philadelphia, who set a new record for the course by qualifying with 71, is matched with F. W. Knight, who took a 75 yesterday.

Dr. O. F. Willing and Jack Neville, members of the victorious American Walker cup team in England, were below form yesterday. Neville requiring 78 and Willing 82 strokes to complete the 18 holes. Dr. Willing is paired with Donald J. Brown, who also shot an 82 and Neville with R. R. Hart, 79 should each win their matches. They will meet in the second round.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

ONE—When must the catcher hold the ball on a third strike or retire the batsman?

TWO—Is there a penalty if a fielder throws his glove at a batted or thrown ball, but fails to catch it?

THREE—Batsman strikes at ball, hits same, ball rebounds from bat and strikes batter, rolling into fair territory. Batsman had not left his position. What is the proper ruling?

FOUR—With runner on first and two down, batter gives hit and run single and single. Batsman on first goes on first goes to third on play, while batsman reaches second on play to get runner going to third. Runner who reached third, failed to touch second, ball is thrown there and he is called out, retiring side. What about this play?

FIVE—Ground ball is a few inches foul as it passes third, then catches into fair territory. Is it fair or foul?

Answers

ONE—When bases are empty catcher must throw ball to first to retire batter. If any base other than first is occupied he must hold the ball. If with two out and first is occupied he must hold the ball. The rule is that with first base occupied and less than two out, the batsman is automatically out on a third strike. This is in effect a rule for purposely dropping the ball and trying for a double play.

TWO—The glove must come into contact with the ball for a penalty to be inflicted.

THREE—It is a foul ball as the batsman who has not left his box is in foul territory.

FOUR—Batsman is not credited with a hit, since the failure of the runner to touch second on his way to third made a force play for the third out.

FIVE—The ball is foul, if so when it passed third base. It matters not what later happened.

SCOTT HOPES TO PLAY TWO MORE YEARS

By N. E. A. Service

NEW YORK, June 1.—How much longer will Everett Scott, who still is going after playing more than 1000 consecutive games, continue to play major league ball?

Last year Scott appeared to be slowing up badly. His play on the Polo Grounds was ordinary all season and in the world series he dropped well below the high standard that usually characterizes his work.

This year Scott appears in much better condition than last season and is playing a much improved game. Incidentally the new Yankee field, which will be a little slower for a time, will help his play.

I never intend to play minor league ball," says Scott. "If able to stick two more years in the majors I will be content to retire."

BACHELOR PARTY

A bachelor party was given last night at the home of Roger Hayward, 31 31 Santer, avenue for Donald Fletcher, who is shortly to become a bachelor. The party was after the nature of a surprise and everyone enjoyed himself to the limit.

In the course of the evening a gift was presented to Mr. Fletcher by James MacDonald, in behalf of the gathering, and Mr. Fletcher responded fittingly to the presentation. Mr. Fletcher is connected with the firm of E. J. Fletcher Co., wholesale tea and coffee merchants in Boston.

Smith is playing Jones in match competition. Both are off long balls from the tee. Both apparently get on the green in good position on their second shots. On reaching the green Smith finds his ball within 10 feet of the cup. Jones, unable to find his ball after a short search, gave up the hole. The two men then drove off from the next tee. Jones conceding a hole to Smith. The two players following Smith and Jones, on holing out, found that Jones had put the ball into cup on his second shot, making the hole in two, while the very best Smith could have done was a three. The players immediately notify Smith and Jones of the find. Who really won the hole—Smith or Jones?

If a player reaches a green and is unable to find his ball, the first place to look for it is in the hole. There is always a chance that you may have put over a miracle shot. When Jones failed to find his ball, he should have played his next stroke as nearly as possible from where he played his second shot, which resulted in what he supposed was a lost ball. One stroke penalty should have been added to his score. Since Jones did not follow the rule, believing the second shot of Smith made it practically impossible for him to win the hole, he lost the hole when he gave up the hole, rather than following rule 22.

Player drives his ball into a reorganized water hazard. While the ball does not lie in the water, same being rather shallow, it is included in the mud and almost covered by the summa. What is the proper procedure before making the next shot?

Player may drop the ball under penalty of one stroke either behind the hazard, keeping the spot at which the ball crossed the margin of the hazard between himself and the hole, or in the hazard, keeping the spot at which the ball entered the water between himself and the hole.

Pitching is one feature of the game that has come back lamentably in the opinion of Frank Chance, manager of the Boston Red Sox. Chance, who has been out of baseball for 10 years, sees a decided change for the worse in the pitching end of the game.

"When I was managing the Cubs," says Chance, "I had a lot of pitchers all so nearly equal in ability that it was hard to choose between them. The Cubs were always reasonably sure of good pitching in every ball game.

"Such a condition no longer exists. In the old days a club looked over good pitching almost every day. These days a club sees high-class pitching about every third or fourth day.

"Few staffs have more than two star pitchers and a number can boast of only one really great twirler. Many clubs are using mediocre pitchers in the role of regulars who 15 years ago would have been lucky to hang on as relief pitchers or mere substitutes.

"Lack of heart seems to be the worst fault of a majority of his league pitchers. Many who seem to have enough stuff to get along can't get anywhere because of lack of control.

In the old days a majority of the pitchers could get the fast one over almost at will, but it seems those times are past.

Manager with a staff like that of the New York Americans is indeed fortunate. I wish I had one."

WILL PLAY BOSTON POSTOFFICE TEAM

Tomorrow afternoon at Abbot Hall, Chantville, the Abbot Worsted ball club will play the Boston Postoffice team, one of the strongest semi-professional organizations in the state. Team and Post are slated to do the better work for the Abbot's while Shea and Wall are scheduled to perform in a similar capacity for the Postoffice. Rahm is a former Eastern League pitcher and is reputed to possess the goods. He was caught at Boston college with great success and continued his spectacular playing on several club outfits in this and other New England states. The regular Abbot lineup will be seen in action.

It is estimated that the mill was worth upward of $100,000, while the lumber and box lost will bring that figure up materially.

HENDERSON, Ky., May 31.—Ollie Gibbons, sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary for the murder of Gus Noffsinger, was to take the stand in Circuit court today as a witness.

Young Women Are Turning to Things of More Healthy Type

Time Coming When Proposals of Marriage May Come From Women

WESTCHESTER, Pa., May 31.—Young women are beginning to find the jazz period too shallow and are turning to things of more healthy type, Dr. Frank Paxton Bye, professor of physiology and director of Darlington seminary, declared today in an address at the commencement exercises of the institution. The present flapper period, he said, was merely a forerunner to a new and constructive era of womanhood. "The girl of today," said Mr. Bye, "is not of the clinging type. She has departed from the Victorian period, but she does not know what direction to take. This has given us the flapper and her fondness for jazz. She is an undefined expression."

"The modern girl really is stepping out, although not fully aware of the fact. She is preparing to take her place in competition with men, suffer the defeats and gain achievements. Women are reaching a more equal basis with men—doing the same things as men. This stage of growing equality may reach the point when proposals of marriage may come from women as well as men. Marriage will be regarded in the sense of a business partnership as well as a romantic phase of life."

RECEIVERSHIP FOR K. K. K. ASKED

ATLANTA, Ga., May 31.—Receivership for the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was asked in a petition filed in the Fulton county superior court today by David M. Atty. Gen. Benton Rules Measure Recently Passed Subject to Referendum

Seven Cases Turned Over to Dist. Atty. O'Brien for Prompt Prosecution

BOSTON, May 31.—Attorney-General Benton informed Secretary of State Cook today in response to the latter's request that in his opinion the bill passed by the last legislature providing for a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline used by motor vehicles was not an appropriation measure. The question has been raised whether or as an appropriation measure the bill was not excluded from measures subject to the referendum. Petitions for a referendum already have been filed and under the attorney general's opinion they will be carried through.

For Prompt Prosecution
BOSTON, May 31.—Attorney General Benton today turned over to District Attorney O'Brien of Suffolk county for prompt prosecution seven cases pending in the courts which he considers of importance. The defendants are H. C. Greene & Co., Max Altheim, John H. H. McNamee, William J. Corcoran, Aaron Jacobson, Charles Bond and Arthur Harvey. The cases are concerned with various financial transactions for which the defendants were indicted. Albert M. Hurwitz, assistant attorney general, has been assigned to assist the district attorney in the prosecution.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 12

As Flighty crawled around Jack and up to the Flying Horse's mane, he pointed ahead and called Jack's attention to a large mountain peak in the distance. "That's the tallest mountain in the world," he said. "And on it live the thinnest people who are also the tallest people in the world."

"I never have heard of that mountain," replied Jack. And then he asked Flighty if the Flying Horse would take them over to see it. "Sure," shouted Flighty, and almost before Jack knew it the Flying Horse was close by a little roadway that wound round and round the sides of the towering mountain.

In the next instant Jack and Flighty were surrounded by tall, thin trees, as the Flying Horse slowed down a bit. And suddenly, out from these trees peeped a lot of queer looking people. "There are the Skinnies," explained Flighty. "They do nothing and live on nothing." (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

WHAT THE RAGSIES DO

"WHY, THE EARTH IS ROUND!" CRIED NANCY.

"Now then!" said Mister Tatters, the leader of the Raggies in Raggy Land. "Everybody knows everybody else, so that's off my mind. Now for business. Do you know you have come to the thinnest place on this square earth?" he said to the Twins.

"Why, the earth is round!" cried Nancy. "It says so in the geography books."

"Oh, is it? Excuse me," said Mister Tatters, winking at Rag Tag. "Well, anyway, it makes no difference whether it is round or square or three-cornered, it keeps us Raggies so busy at this time of year, we haven't time to eat three round meals a day."

"But meals are square! You always speak of square meals," corrected Nancy again.

"Oh, are they? Excuse me," answered Mister Tatters, winking at Rag Tag.

"What are you so busy about?" asked Nick, curious as usual.

"Spring cleaning!" said Mister Tatters.

"Spring cleaning!" cried Nancy, clapping her hands. "That's fun! May we help? We helped Mr. Rubadub one time to spring clean the animals that came back from Drendland when they had spent the winter. It was lots of fun."

"This is entirely different," explained Mr. Tatters. "We spring clean places for the animals and birds to come to. Also we help the spring fairies in every way. You can't hang up clean lace curtains until the house is scrubbed and neither can the spring fairies snatter their pretty blossoms and flowers around until the woods and meadow and orchard are cleaned up."

"That's what we Raggies do! We spring clean all outdoors. But you certainly may help if you wish. Our first job is to fix up Mr. Searo Crow for the summer. We are leaving at once."

PETER RIGOPOULOS PRESIDENT OF LOCAL GREEK COMMUNITY

Well Known Market Street Business Man Elected President for Ensuing Year—Result of Election Announced at Greek Church in Jefferson Street Last Night

Peter Rigopoulos, a well known business man of the Market street district, has been elected president of the local Greek community for the ensuing year. This announcement was made at the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street last evening shortly before midnight after the 84 ballots cast at Wednesday's election had been counted. There were three candidates for the office of president and the contest was one of the most spirited in years. Mr. Rigopoulos coming out victorious with a margin of 57 votes over Vasileos Christakos, who came out second. The third man, Demetrios Themelis stood 48 votes behind Mr. Christakos after the tabulation was completed.

PETER RIGOPOULOS,
President

The election was held all day Wednesday, the polls opening at 8 a. m. and closing at 3 p. m. During that time 815 out of 1123 votes were cast. The tabulation of votes was started at about 11 o'clock Wednesday night and was not completed until after 11 o'clock last night, this work being under the direction of John P. Parley. The other officers chosen are as follows: Theodoros Gaceli, treasurer; Vassilios Karamoussakis, Theodoros Karamoussakis, John Goudakakis, auditors; Arghos Asimakopoulos, Nicholas Giceli, John Zaramboulas, Constantine Panagiotopoulos and Demetrios Demetriakopoulos, school committee; John Vezagakes, Arghos Karamoussakis, Tsilakis Manakas, Achilles Notzios, Michael Noulas, Philippos Roukis, Demetrios Simopoullos, Andreas Stikoudis, Constantine Sarrakinos, Philippos Kozis, John Chembros and Thomas Panakostas, directors.

The new officers will assume their duties next Monday when President Constantine Varkaropoulos will turn over the books and other effects of the community to the new president.

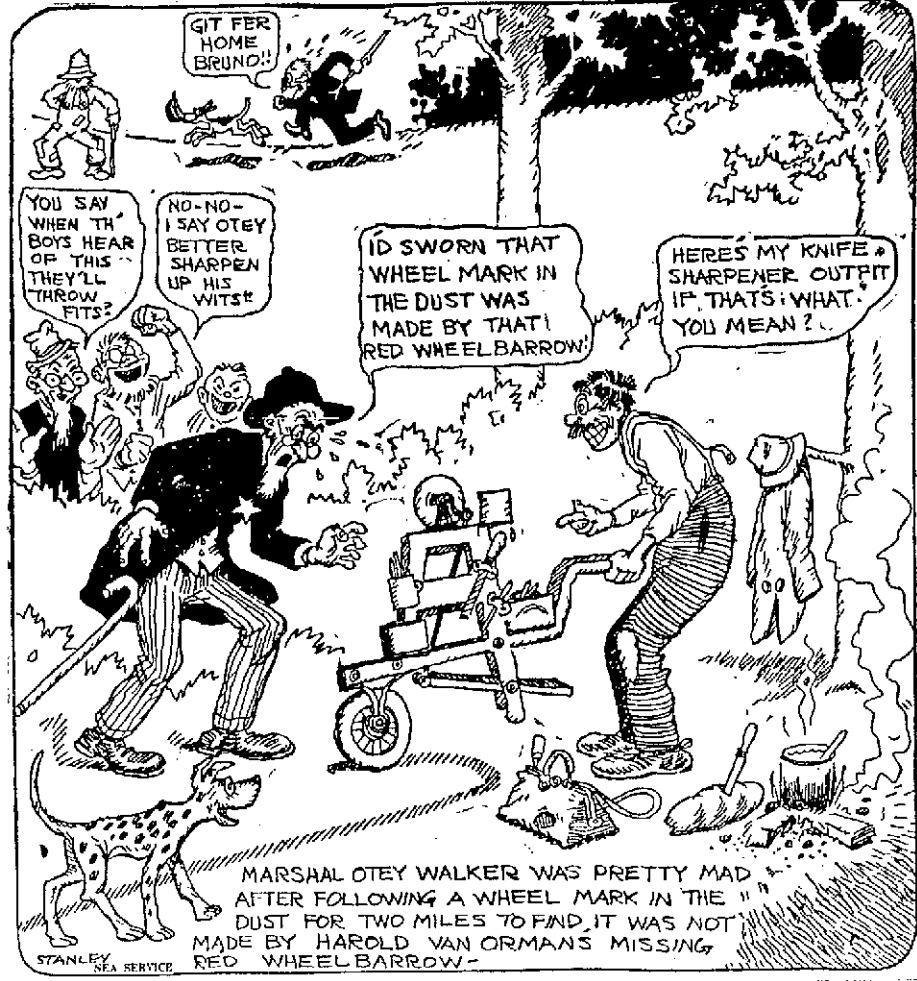

Mr. Rigopoulos, the new president, has been a resident of this city for the past seventeen years. He is conducting a very successful wholesale and

TO PARTICIPATE IN ACRE MEMORIAL DEDICATION

Capt. George D. Crowell of Company D, 155th machine gun company announces that his organization will participate in the dedication exercises of the Acre Memorial to be held Sunday afternoon. The members of the company will meet at the state armory Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock reporting with the same equipment that they carried at the memorial exercises held at Waltham.

Company D took part in the exercises held at Waltham Memorial day, leaving Lowell at 10:20 in the morning and arriving back at 6 o'clock in the evening. The men travelled via motor truck and on their arrival at Waltham they proceeded to the armory where they had lunch following which they took part in the parade of the first battalion. Companies were formed from Lawrence and Haverhill. Major Thomas Livingston commanded the battalion and Lt. Col. George C. Morse acted as chief marshal of the parade.

WILL DISCUSS BIDS FOR ASPHALT PAVING

The board of public service will meet tomorrow noon at 12:30 o'clock to discuss bids received on asphalt paving material and to award a contract.

The board has asked the city engineer to confer with officials of the Sun-Lowell shops relative to the construction of a temporary sidewalk along Dutton street on the side where the company now is excavating for the erection of a new plant.

NO MORE HYDRANT TESTS RIGHT AWAY

After completing hydrant tests in upper Belvidere yesterday morning the special investigating committee conducted similar tests on Centralville heights and later at the corner of Pine and Gibson streets in the Highlands and at the end of the Mammoth road car line in Pawtucketville.

No further tests will be made for the time being, although the committee may find need for others after the results of yesterday are studied. All tests made were photographed and these plates will be made a part of the records of the committee.

THE ASH DEPARTMENT

Because of the holiday granted employees of the ash department on Memorial day, it will be impossible for the division to adjust itself to a 48-hour week this week, but an attempt will be made next week to bring the number of working hours down to this figure. Although Wednesday was a day lost, Supt. Michael H. Harrington said today his department would be even with its regular schedule by tonight.

LAKESIDE CHAPEL

Beginning next Sunday, June 3, Fr. Michael C. Gilbride will celebrate mass at 10 o'clock in the Lakeside chapel. A special musical program has been arranged for this mass, and special music will be given at all the masses during the summer.

The students and teachers of the Rogers Hall school went to Canobie lake today, for a luncheon party. Two special cars and several automobiles left the school at 10:30.

The graduation exercises of the Lowell Normal school will be held at the school on June 21. Congressman John Jacob Rogers will be the principal speaker at the exercises and an interesting program of entertainment is now being arranged for the affair.

In Burlington, Vt. Sunday, District Deputy Charles J. Landers and staff of the Lowell K. of C. will exemplify the third degree on a large class of candidates from De Goshland council of the Green Mountain city, and St. Stephen's council of Winooski, Vt.

Henry J. Leal, a resident of 403 Central street, enlisted yesterday for a three-year term in the Organized Reserves, as cook. He was assigned to the Supply battery, 359th Field Artillery. Mr. Leal served in Base Hospital No. 44 during the World war.

In the Sun report of the speeches at the banquet of the Spanish War Veterans in Memorial hall, following the parade the name of Councilor John W. Daly was inadvertently omitted. Mr. Daly made a good speech.

The St. John's Prep school golf team will play the Lowell high team tomorrow afternoon on the Mt. Pleasant golf links. This game was originally scheduled for the Vesper Country club but was changed today as other events are scheduled for the Vesper club links tomorrow.

Among those who participated in the musical program that was given in connection with the mission conducted at St. John's mission in Chelmsford Centre last week, were the following: Miss Ella King, Miss Mary, Miss Florence, Hagie, Miss Veronica Barr, Mrs. Mabel Sullivan.

OPPORTUNITY FOR RAPID ADVANCEMENT

Lieut. Francis L. Ralls of the First battalion headquarters detachment and combat train, summons that there are 20 vacancies in his organization for men who are especially trained and qualified as radio men, wireless operators, telephone and special detail men. Practically every man enlisted in this outfit carries a non commissioned rank and owing to the rapid advancement, a lucrative berth may be obtained in a very short time, asserts the lieutenant.

Recent promotions in the organization are: First Sergeant Carl L. Landow to battalion sergeant major; Sergt. Thomas H. Finneral to first sergeant; Corporals Walter Drapau and William Lemire to sergeants; Privates Ernest Auerbach, Frank Carroll, Romeo Monteleon, Emmett Winters, Maurice L. Mullane, Raymond Donovan and Albert Branchaud to corporals.

High school students and graduates who are over 18 years of age are particularly wanted by the organization, which is making a special drive to recruit to full strength before the summer encampment at Devens starting July 22. Young men 17 years of age can enlist if they obtain the consent of their parents. Recent enlistments received by the attendance officers are Benjamin Parshley, Charles Sanger, Rozak

LOWELL DENTISTS WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

Between 15 and 20 Lowell dentists will leave the city next Monday afternoon to attend the three-day session of the annual convention of the North-eastern Massachusetts Dental society at the New Ocean house, Swampscott, on June 5, 6 and 7. This year's convention also marks the tenth anniversary of the society and special programs have been arranged in commemoration of it.

The convention is of particular interest to Lowell, inasmuch as Dr. W.

DR. HERBERT E. DAVIS
Past President

Dr. Davis is first vice-president of the society. Dr. A. S. MacLeod and Dr. Edwin A. Kent are members of the board of directors and Dr. Herbert E. Davis is a past president.

The convention convenes Monday evening with a business meeting at 8 o'clock. On Tuesday the convention closes and lectures get under way and continue almost hourly every day until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Several of the best known dental surgeons in the east will be convention speakers and also will be in charge of clinics. Entertainments have been arranged for each evening and nearly 500 courses will offer opportunities for recreation for those so inclined.

Stahley, Walter Prince and Anthony Lamson, Capt. Charles J. Chabon, the medical officer, will be at the armory Thursday night, to examine the above recruits, to ascertain whether or not they are eligible for enlistment. Applicants who are planning to enlist are advised to submit their names before this date.

The headquarters detachment and the combat train will meet at the state armory on Westford street, Sunday morning at 11:20, and will assemble preparatory to leaving for the annual brigade inspection to be held at the Matthews ranch in the afternoon. Men are requested to carry their regulation equipment and attendance is compulsory at this affair.

Gen. Hale, in charge of the first brigade, has communicated with the Lowell officers to the effect that he expects every man enlisted in the organization to be present. A layout inspection of all equipment was held at the armory last night, in preparation for the inspection. The outfit was declared to be in condition by the officers.

Lieut. Ralls stated that there will be an assignment of single mount horses for the detachment in the near future and that men in the organization will have a chance to learn horsemanship at the expense of the government.

Bright polished shoes are said to be cooler than dull or dusty shoes, because they throw off the sun's rays by reflection.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR People Tender Reception to Rev. Alice Haire

A reception was tendered last night to Rev. Alice Haire, her husband and son, in the vestry of the Lawrence Street Primitive Methodist church in South Lowell, by the members of the congregation.

About 150 parishioners sat down to the supper which opened the reception and following this, a roll-call was made by William Burt, church moderator. The church choir rendered several selections and William Sykes gave a solo, the choros being sustained by the choir. Little Miss Barbara Atwood also entertained with several recitations.

Dr. Eliza Humphries of Billerica, and Rev. John T. Udon, newly elected pastor of the Mathew Memorial church, addressed the gathering on the growth of the church and then took part in the general reception.

Mrs. William McQuade presented Rev. Mrs. Haire a beautiful bouquet as a token of esteem from the gathering and Rev. Mrs. Haire responded fittingly with a short talk on her plans for the church.

The committee in charge of the reception was headed by William Burt, who was assisted by Robert Fairweather. The Ladies Aid society of the church had charge of the supper, with Mrs. McQuade, the president, in charge of all arrangements.

DISABLED VETERANS OF THE WORLD WAR

State Treasurer Edward H. Sullivan of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War will attend the first meeting of newly elected state officers to be held at department headquarters tomorrow afternoon in Boston. Matters in connection with the appointment of a candidate to represent the Lowell officers in the national headquarters convention and the time and place of the next state convention will be discussed.

The Disabled Veterans will be officially represented at the dedication of the Acre Memorial Sunday afternoon. All members are requested to report in uniform at the Memorial hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The regular meeting of the post will be held Tuesday evening in Memorial hall at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is desired at this meeting as matters of importance in regard to the state convention and the memorial day celebration will be talked over. Commander Ralph A. Dodge will preside at this meeting.

LAWRENCE W. CUMMINGS KILLED BY AUTO TRUCK

Lawrence W. Cummings, 43, of 20 Dutton street, employed at the B. & N. Keith theatre, was fatally injured late yesterday afternoon near the junction of Westford and Osgood streets when struck by an automobile truck owned and operated by Milo D. Clay of 411 School street, house painter. He died at the Lowell Corporation hospital as the result of a fractured skull.

Mr. Clay reported the accident at police headquarters where he was charged with manslaughter and released under $2000 bonds.

The accident occurred when Cummings walked from back of a street railway car and directly in front of the truck. Mr. Clay said he was driving his machine in second speed at the time he was unable to bring it to a stop in time to avoid hitting the man. Cummings was thrown heavily to the street, his head striking the pavement with considerable force.

With the help of James Cadden of 110 Chapel street and Peter Roarke of 365 Lawrence street, Mr. Clay carried Cummings to the office of Dr. Charles L. Sweetser nearby. First treatment was given but it was soon found that the man was seriously injured and he was rushed to the hospital, only to die soon after arrival there.

Cummings is survived by an aunt, Mrs. Ella M. Sweeney of Lawrence and an uncle, Thomas Cummings of city. The body was taken to the rooms of Undertakers Peter H. Savage Son Co.

FUNERALS

WELCH—The funeral of James E. Welch, a respected resident of the Belvidere district, took place this morning from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leo Aubrey, 32 Swift street, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, including the following delegation, from the Lowell Aerie of Eagles of which deceased was an esteemed member, William Mulligan, Timothy J. O'Connor, Joseph C. Clark and Thomas Mulvey. Thursday evening the members of the order under the leadership of worthy President Timothy E. Barry and assisted by the officers of the Aerie conducted services at the home of the bereaved family. The house was filled with people. The services were rendered by Chorister James E. Donnelly. A funeral high mass was sung at the Immaculate Conception church, this morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Denis J. Sullivan, O.M.I., officiating. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles P. Smith, rendered the Gregorian chant. At the offertory "O Mariam Passionem" was sung by Miss Isabel McKiernan, and the solos in the De Profundis were sustained by Mr. James E. Donnelly. Mrs. Walker presiding at the organ. There was an unusually large number of floral tributes and of spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Terence D. Leonard, George W. Gordon, John J. Connors, Charles T. O'Brien, Edward P. O'Brien and Philip H. Smith. At the grave Rev. Fr. Sullivan read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James E. O'Donnell & Sons.

MEEHAN—The funeral of John J. Meehan, well known employee of the Eastern Mass. St. Ry. took place this morning from the home of his brother, Timothy Meehan, 60 Pleasant street, at 9 o'clock, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to the Immaculate Conception church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn high funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. James J. McCarthy, O.M.I., as deacon, and Rev. William A. Hobbins, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles P. Smith, rendered the Gregorian chant. Solos of the mass were sustained by Mrs. Isabella McKernan, Mrs. William March, Mrs. Hinch Walker and Mr. Charles P. Smith. Mrs. Walker presided at the organ. There was a profusion of floral offerings as well as many spiritual bouquets. The bearers were borne by the following bearers: Messrs. Patrick Hayden, Patrick Hunt, Patrick McManis, Patrick Roarke, Thomas Hayden, Edward J. Nichols. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read at the grave by Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Donnell & Sons.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all who in any way helped during the illness and death of our father, brother and grandfather, Robert T. Emmett. Those who sent spiritual and floral bouquets we wish to thank also the "Girls from the Ipswich Hoagier, Inc., Mr. Thos. Scanton and Mr. Jas. Corney.

MRS. MARY L. MCNEILTY,
 ROBERT LEO MCNEILTY,
 WILLIAM J. EMMETT,
 MRS. JULIA MCNEILTY,
 MRS. SARAH LEMER,
 REV. SISTER ELLIQUARD.

DEATHS

FELCH—The funeral of Mrs. Julia A. Felch was held at the funeral church, 236 Westford street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Henry K. Vye, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. Fred L. Roberts and Miss Edna B. Thompson. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The following delegation representing Highland Union Lodge, 31, Daughters of Hebechah, exemplified the burial ritual of that order: Mrs. Maud V. Ringer, N.G., Mrs. Ada A. Robey, V.G., Mrs. L. Florence Hussey, chaplain, Mrs. Alice M. Hibbs, secretary, and Mrs. Elsie Saball, treasurer. The bearers were James McChute, Herman McDuffie, Harry L. Ellis and Guy E. Ellis. Burial was in the family lot in the Edison cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

DELSIE—Dr. Joseph D. Delisle died last evening at his home, 267 West Sixth street, aged 60 years. He had been a successful physician for many years, but failing health caused him to retire from active practice. He was the father of four children, Mrs. Adolph Delisle of the firm of Bonthe & Delisle, druggists, of this city; Dr. John Delisle of Ottawa, Ont.; Dr. Uth Delisle of Hull, P. Q.; and Eugene Delisle of Townsend, and two sisters, Mrs. Napoleon Cossette and Mrs. Joseph Perron, both of this city. He was a member of Court St. Jeanne d'Arc Catholic Foresters of Lowell, and Court Napoleon 1, Independent Foresters, also of Haverhill.

PARENT—Mrs. Lucy (Robitaille) Parent, widow of Cyrille Parent, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Demers, 121 Crawford street, aged 73 years. She had been a resident of Lowell for nearly 40 years. Besides Mrs. Demers she leaves two other daughters, Mrs. Lucy St. John of Franklin, Mass., and Mrs. Rosa Berard of Lowell; three sons, Cyrille of Andover and Frank and Joseph Parent of Lawrence, Mass.; and one brother, Frank Robitaille, of Franklin, Mass.

GAILLARD—The funeral of Mrs. Louise (Dette) Gaillard took place yesterday from the home of her sister, Mrs. Lucille LeBlanc, 252 White street, and was largely attended. At Notre Dame de Lourdes church a mass was sung by Rev. Guillaume Goulette, O.M.I. The bearers were Arthur and Alexandre Dette, brothers of deceased. Mr. George Heald and Joseph Parent.

EVER SEE A TIGER LAUGH?

BY MILTON BRONNER
N.E.A. Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 1.—(George Clemenceau, the "Tiger," and one of France's greatest statesmen, is laughing at the predicament in which Premier Poincaré is finding himself.

The premier had decided on a vigorous course of action against Marcel Cachin and 15 other communists arrested many months ago for their activities in the Ruhr. But the senate declined to sit as a high court to try them.

Poincaré heatedly tendered his resignation. But President Millerand refused to accept it. Then a compromise was effected. But many believe Poincaré's position and dignity have suffered.

Among them is Clemenceau. He laughed and said:

"But then—Poincaré is utterly ridiculous anyway. Just as he was when he and his followers attributed a political motive for my trip to America."

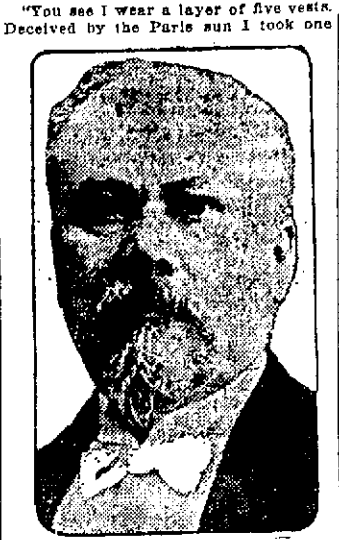

"As if American crowds and American applause could mean votes for a Frenchman in France!"

The Tiger was pacing up and down self-was interrupted by a coughing spell. Then he continued, poking fun at himof them off. So now I have a cold and cough.

CLEMENCEAU

POINCARÉ

"But soon I will go to Vimy and then to my beloved St. Vincent where I will be safe from colds which are bad enough, and from politicians who are a worse disease."

Clemenceau is writing a book. But it isn't for immediate release.

"My book," he says, "is to be published 3500 years after my death. There will be no politics in it. As I told you last summer, and I repeat to you now, any man who has been in public life, and who writes the story of his life, writes an apology or a defense of his acts. I will neither apologize nor defend what I have done."

"Then your book will contain your philosophy of life and perhaps your views on religion?" I queried.

"You mustn't ask too many questions. It is not polite nor polite. If I told you now whether I think life is aimless or otherwise, I might change my mind before the end came. Besides my book will never be finished. I will be ended before the book is. It is doomed to be a fragment."

"But it will be a monument to Georges Clemenceau who lived to lead his country to victory in revenge for the bitter days of 1870?" I ventured.

"I am a modest man," he replied. "Let's talk of Poincaré. I enjoy that more."

It is claimed that crows, eagles, ravens and swans live to be 100 years old.

CITIZENS' MILITARY TRAINING CAMP

General Brewster, commander of the First Corps Area for the 8,000 students who will take the courses of instruction at the Citizens' Military Training camp to be held at Camp Devens, announces that boys who reach their 17th birthday this calendar year, are eligible to enter the training, providing they pass the physical tests.

Capt. Charles Huggins, in charge of athletics at Devens for the past two summers, will be present this year, with larger and better facilities for the proper handling of sports activities for the students. Three thousand dollars will be expended for additions to the sporting equipment, and to foster inter company and regimental competition.

The purchase of the latest design amplifiers to improve radio equipment of the camp has been carried out. Concerts will be given every evening in the recreation hall. A special course in radio will be given by the Signal Corps department. James G. Harbord, retired president of the Radio Corporation of America, is offering a prize of a complete radio set to the student showing the best record in this department.

Rev. Walter J. Donoghue, 5th Infantry, has reported for duty at corps area headquarters and will immediately commence a speaking tour of the colleges and preparatory schools of New England. Students enrolled in the Coast Artillery corps will be trained at Fort H. O. Wright on Long Island, going direct from their homes to this fort. Only 300 students can be enrolled for this camp, and they will have the use of the high-powered guns, under the direction of capable instructors. The state commanders of the American Legion have been asked to co-operate in securing desirable students for enrollment by nominating specially qualified boys for admission to the training. Major Joseph W. Bartlett, commander of the Boston chapter of the Military Order of the World war, has advised all members of his organization to assist in getting members to enter the camp.

Camp Commander, Col. Frank C. Bolles is now stationed at Camp Devens, getting everything in readiness for the reception of the students. Capt. John C. MacDonald, officer in charge of the Citizens' Military Training camp affairs, will fly to Dillboy field in an airplane piloted by Lieut. P. C. Moffatt, June 2, in connection with the celebration of a Somerville anniversary, in an effort to stimulate recruiting for the camp. Information in regard to the camp can be secured from the headquarters of the Military Training Camps association at Room 315, 84 State street, Boston.

LOWELL'S WATER LIFE SAVING CAMPAIGN

Lowell's water life-saving campaign for men and boys will open next Monday, June 4, and continue for two weeks at the Lowell Y.M.C.A. swimming pool under the auspices of the American Red Cross with the following organizations co-operating: The Boy Scouts, Y.M.C.A. Boys' club, Advertising club, Y.W.C.A., Chamber of Commerce, Rotary club, N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co., Lowell Gas Co., Lowell Electric Light Co., newspapers, city council and various departments of the city government, represented by the following committees in charge of all arrangements: Mr. Robert Marden, chairman; Geo. Stevens of Building mill, Mayor Donovan, Councilman Daly, Supt. of Schools Hugh Molloy, Principal of High School Henry H.

Harris, Physical Director of Public Schools Donald MacFarlane, Chief Saunders of Fire Department, Chief Atkinson of Police Department, Park Commissioner Kierland, Fire Flagger of Board mills, Royal P. White of Stringer mills, Dr. John H. Landert, E. J. McLean of Boy Scouts, Walter H. Jones, Boys' club, Edward J. Conney, Gas Co., Mr. George Wells, chamber of commerce, Edw. Fisher, Elmwood I. McPhie, Herbert Horne, Y.M.C.A., Mr. Gen. Wood, Advertising club, E. J. Mahoney, N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co., Harold P. Howe and C. E. Towse, field representative in life-saving of the New England Division, American Red Cross, will come to the city for the first week of the campaign and will direct the instruction and examinations, assisted by C. E. Towse, physical director of the Y.M.C.A., and Frank W. Sawyer, Mr. Towse and Mr. Sawyer, both qualified Red Cross life-saving examiners, will conduct the classes the second week.

The instruction and tests will be governed by the standards established by the Life-Saving Service of the American National Red Cross, and those who receive the instruction and pass the tests with the required percentage will qualify for membership in the American Red Cross Life-Saving Corps. It is hoped that a sufficient number will qualify for the organization of a corps in this city to carry on the life-saving work to reduce the number of deaths by accidental drowning.

Men and boys who can swim are eligible to join the life-saving classes which Captain Miller and his assistants will direct. There will be separate classes for those 17 years of age and over, and junior classes for those from 12 to 16 years of age. The classes will probably be held in the late afternoon and evening.

Those who wish to qualify themselves to save human life in emergency should enroll at once at the Y.M.C.A. Captain Miller will teach those who join the classes the most effective methods of rescuing drowning persons and resuscitating persons unconscious when taken from the water. He will direct practice in the various methods and will give the tests which qualify those who pass for membership in the American Red Cross Life-Saving Corps. Those who pass the tests should be able to save life under actual emergency conditions—and every year ocean, rivers and lakes, ponds and pools are taking their toll of lives that might be saved. Many drown because no one among these present knows what to do.

The life-saving service of the American Red Cross is one of its most important activities. Through education of swimmers in proper methods of speedy action in water emergencies the Red Cross is striving to reduce the preventable deaths by drowning. It is a continuous effort, carried on through the year in winter in indoor swimming pools, in summer at summer camps and beaches. "Everyone a swimmer, every swimmer a life-saver"—that is the goal.

DRAWING CONTEST
The benefit drawing contest for St. Martin's church was held in the church hall on Lawrence street, Wednesday night and the following numbers were drawn for the prizes: 1st, 100; 2nd, 100; 3rd, 100; 4th, 100. The holders of these tickets will get their prizes by calling at the home of the president, Sarah Fay, 100 W. Main street.

VESPER COUNTRY CLUB MEETING

At a special meeting of the Vesper Country club held last night at the island, necessary votes were passed amending the constitution and by-laws to allow the issuance of certificates of membership as a means of financing the erection of a new clubhouse to replace the one destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

At a previous meeting held in Liberty hall the executive committee was authorized to go ahead with such a plan and last night's action was for the purpose of localizing the procedure.

The business session did not last for more than 10 or 15 minutes and was attended by about 100 of the resident members of the club.

CHALIFOUX'S FASHIONGRAMS FROM PARIS

Summer jackets are expected to take the place of summer wraps except for formal evening wear. This one is made of heavy silk crepe trimmed with wide bands of broadened ribbon. Other materials in favor are the broadened silk and tulle crepes.

Notice the modish blouse here, the tucked bodice and the fashionable collar. The jacket is made from McCall Pattern Pattern 7212, 10c.

BIG INCREASE IN BUILDING PERMITS

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, June 1.—Returns received from building departments in 31 cities in Massachusetts by the state department of labor and industries show that the aggregate value represented by application filed in April, 1923, for permits to build in these cities was $12,358,566, which is an increase of $2,068,050 or 37 per cent when compared with the similar aggregate for March, 1922.

In Boston the figures for April were $4,417,365, as against $1,707,250 for the month of March.

In New Bedford the figures, given for April were $1,402,000 as against $883,600 for March while the figures for Fall River were $1,276,905 as against $221,514 for the preceding month.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezing" on an itching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with the fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezings" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.—Adv.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Duping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from indigestion, have not discovered that the most powerful and reliable remedy is Magnesia. The use of harmful drugs, stomachics, tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, instead of the simple, natural, and safe Magnesia, will only lead to a more serious condition. Magnesia is a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer trouble them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful antacid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acids, soothe the stomach, prevent food fermentation and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Epsom Magnesia, especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

SHRINE IN MEMORY OF MARK TWAIN

FLORIDA, Mo., June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The plan to establish a Mark Twain memorial park here where the humorist was born, has met with an encouraging response, according to officers of the Mark Twain State Memorial Park association, which is fostering the movement.

The executive committee has set August as "Mark Twain month" and the first week in September as "Mark Twain week." All lovers of the famous humorist should read at least one of his books in August, the committee declared, and heads of schools will be asked to have some sort of memorial program on one day in "Mark Twain week."

M. A. Violette, owner of the home here in which Mark Twain was born, has promised to donate the house and its old-time curio to the association. Mark Twain was born November 30, 1835, and in his autobiography he humorously speaks of Florida as having "two streets, each a couple of hundred yards long, the rest of the avenues mere lanes, with rail fences and corn fields on either side." Florida, however, has grown into a neat little town, with all the usual business institutions.

The majority of members of the association are editors of newspapers in Missouri.

ATLANTA EXPECTS 50,000 ELKS

ATLANTA, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Not less than fifty thousands from all parts of America are expected to be present at the annual convention of the grand lodge of the order which meets in Atlanta July 9 to 15. The gathering will assemble delegations from Maine to Hawaii, with present indications pointing to representation from a large majority of the 1000 lodges in the country.

This is the first time that a convention of the grand lodge of Elks has ever been held in the southeast, and the first time in ten years that the order has come south. The Atlanta lodge is completing preparations to entertain a minimum of 50,000 visitors. The hotel capacity will be enlarged by July 1, college dormitories will be operated as temporary hotels, two vast Pullman offices will be set up in the heart of the city, and the grounds and buildings of the southeastern fair will be converted into a monster tourist camp to accommodate several thousand southern lodges which will make the trip by automobile. Thousands of private homes will be opened.

A special railroad rate of a fare and a half of the round trip, under the identification certificate plan, will be in force over practically all lines.

Prize and Championship Dancing Contest at the Kasino This Evening

JAMES BATHO AND SOPHIE HARMER

Following out its policy of supplying the local dancing patrons with big time attractions, the management of the popular Kasino dance pavilion, in Thorncliffe street, has prepared a stellar number for this evening by way of a prize dance for the championship of the Merrimack valley, featuring James Batho and Sophie Harmer of this city, and Rones Price and Louise Fontaine, experienced terpsichorean artists and well known in practically every dance hall of importance in this and other New England cities. Tonight's exhibition has been awaited by dance enthusiasts in this city for several weeks. It was only after considerable difficulty that the participants in tonight's exhibition were looked to appear here. The championship award will be made by three disinterested judges and not by the usual method of popular applause. In this way, disputes will be done away with, as partiality will have no consideration with the judges. The decision will be rendered purely on points. Campbell's orchestra, which is making a decided hit with Kasino patrons, will furnish the music.

California and other parts of the Pacific coast, Panama, Georgia and Maryland organizations have some attractive openings for the man who is qualified for special work. Men with education who are qualified to attend trade schools are especially wanted by the recruiting officer.

The attractive berths in the army are attracting many of the ex-service men who left the army at the close of the World war and who are now anxious to get back into the game. reports Sergeant Kimball, who accepted several enlistments this week. The Philippines have been closed for the past three years to all enlistments, and the chances now offered are apt to be withdrawn on short notice. If applications for this duty continue to pour in.

Real Estate Sales

LORD CURZON

MAKES PROTEST

Objects to Search at Gravesend for Bones of Indian Princess Pocahontas

Denounces Destruction of Works of Art in Address at London

LONDON, June 1.—Marquis Curzon, the foreign secretary has added his voice to the protest against the search at Gravesend for the bones of the Indian, Princess Pocahontas.

Addressing a meeting of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings last evening, he denounced the destruction of works of art in the past and asserted that reverence for ancient buildings was an admirable sentiment. He said that it was indeed almost a religious cult, and added:

"But there is one form this cult takes which seems to me to be antiquarianism run mad—the modern craze for taking up the remains of the dead."

Lord Curzon, after mentioning several instances in point, including the excavation at King Tutankhamun's tomb for which he thought there was some excuse because of the artistic and historical results obtained, referred to Pocahontas. He said he had just read of "a lot of phools gathered around the site of her interment where they were finding a heap of skulls and bones, while men of science are actually sitting by to discover whether among this pile of debris they can find a skull with some high hair on it."

"In our passion for antiquity," he added, "let us at least spare the dead."

Inasmuch as the permission of Home Secretary Bridgeman was necessary before the search at Gravesend became possible, it is believed that Lord Curzon's comment will not escape remark.

Table, Buffet and Six Chairs, Queen Anne Style $110.00

Here is the premier value of all the dining room furniture ever offered at the price. An oblong table, handsome buffet with mirror back, full length of buffet, together with one arm chair and five straight chairs, the most complete suite, especially priced at $110.00. All pieces are true reproductions of the Queen Anne style. The turnings have been carefully worked up, and the result is evidenced in a suite of furniture out of the ordinary. This only means that you can now furnish your dining room in just the manner you would have it—and at a very minimum expense. The suite is finished in Walnut.

A Big Bed Outfit $30.00 Bed, Spring, Mattress

The most economical value you can possibly share in is this one, where a full size brass bed, steel tempered spring and 50-lb. mattress are offered in combination at a price which the bed alone would command. If you would have a complete bed outfit for the extra room or the furnishings for a room you contemplate getting at a minimum expense, we highly recommend this outfit.

Mahogany Library Table $13.95

You will better be in a position to appreciate this library table value upon seeing it. Finished in dull mahogany to a high degree, it makes a very attractive and beautiful addition to any living room or library. It would be just the piece to set a lamp upon. As shown, has full length rack for books, etc.

SPARKS' CIRCUS SEEMED TO PLEASE EVERYBODY

The Sparks' circus gave two excellent performances on the fair grounds lot in Gorham street yesterday afternoon and evening, with large crowds in attendance.

This circus always has been famed for its wonderful horses and the appearance of scores of beautiful steeds stood out prominently as a feature of the show. In every way the circus lived up to a "big time" reputation and put on one of the cleanest and most entertaining programs possible. Although not comparable in size to the larger circuses, such as Ringling Bros., it nevertheless is distinctly high grade and worthy of patronage.

A 1922 acquisition to the circus is a remarkable group of 16 German trained "rotation" horses, direct from the Stellinghofen training quarters in Essen and their equal never has been seen in this country. The extreme height of animal intelligence was displayed in their act in the middle ring and the audience greeted them with rounds of applause.

The dancing horses, 10 in number, featuring their trainer, Minnie Thompson, horsewoman of national repute, was another outstanding feature, as was Bessie Harvey, with her trained pigeons and thoroughbred Arabian mountaineers. Other equestrians were Hesse and Melvin Hollis, dainty Peter Bedini and Walter Gulick, each a rider of renown.

Clowns, with bags-full of brand new stunts, were in abundance during both performances and the production was brought to an end with a reproduction of a genuine English fox hunt, in which a dozen horses, featuring King George, champion broad jumper, was ridden by Florence Harris.

For an hour before the afternoon and evening performances, a splendid concert was given by Jack Phillips' band.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"I Heard," which is still proving highly popular at the B. F. Keith's theatre, is an intricate little comedy, put forth with all of the art Edwin Burke and Paul Becker & Co. can summon. It has to do with the malice of wagging tongues, and of the danger which so many times results. Notwithstanding the seriousness of it all, there is a fine comedy element throughout. "Senator" Ford, the monologist, is scoring well with his talk on current topics, and Devan & Flint are musical comedy artists with a new line of patter. Fiske & Lloyd give in their songs, songland and other acts which are staged for the week's program. Ned O'Connell, dainty singer, Joe St. Ange, trio, acrobats, and Wilbert & Dawson, cyclists.

THE STRAND

Charles Ray is yet to register a failure in pictures. Knowing that to be so, patrons will find "Snuggles," which is showing at The Strand, one of his most amusing screen creations. See it and laugh with Charlie. The second feature is Charles Jones in "The Footlight Kismet." This too, has all of the elements that will please. The comedy and Weekly will help out and Strand comfort is always a factor in the low per cent enjoyment to be had at Lowell's biggest and best theatre.

RIALTO THEATRE

For the week-end bill the Rialto theatre has a double feature attraction. The first feature will introduce William Fairbanks in "Spain of the Desert," a thrilling western which is filled with rapid action from start to finish. The second feature is entitled "The Tempest" and there is an all-star cast performing in this Harold Lloyd comedy entitled "Now or Never," rounds out the bill.

CROWN THEATRE

Drama and William Farnum—there is a combination that becomes stronger with every picture in which the Fox star appears. The latest, "Brass Commandments" will be shown at the Crown for two days starting today. It is a story of the west, done in the style of "The Lone Ranger," for the attractions of outdoor action. To make a good thing better Tom Sarschi, who held such a memorable conflict with Farnum in the "Spillers," gives the Fox star an equally historical battle in this play.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Only a few more opportunities remain for Lowell photograph lovers to see "Trifling Women," a drama of three kinds of love, now playing at the Merrimack Square with a cast that includes Barbara La Marr and other notables of the screen world. A Larry Semon comedy and a new comedy, "The Leatherstocking," are also being shown. Beginning Sunday and continuing four days the feature will be "Chances," a great drama of modern married life.

REMARKABLE INTERIOR VIEW OF FIRST AID CONTEST AT AUDITORIUM

ment was supposed to have received such injuries as a telephone worker might easily receive while on the job. Five local doctors acted as judges and even they were amazed at the skill and dexterity shown by the teams. Between each contest, William's orchestra of New Bedford, composed of telephone workers and the Clan McPherson band of Lawrence furnished music and the entire audience joined in community singing.

Presented Vail Medals

While the judges' returns were being tabulated, Miss Elizabeth M. Longman, chief night operator in Lawrence, and Mrs. Dustin Hamblett, (Olga T. Wogandal, former chief night operator in Lowell, were escorted onto the stage by a group of telephone girls, who acted as ushers during the evening, and were presented the Vail medals for intelligent, initiative and resourceful use of the telephone in a public emergency. Vice President Edmund W. Longley of Boston made the presentation speech and in it he told of the history of the telephone and the great part that New England played in its invention and its financing and also paid great tribute to the late Dr. Moses Greeley Parker of Lowell as one of the four pioneers in the telephone industry and one who had done much to make it a success. He then told of the act of the two chief operators who were receiving the medals, how, by ingenious use of the telephone they trapped a fugitive from justice who was later convicted of manslaughter, and he then presented the medals. Bouquets were then presented and the ushers escorted them off the stage and around the floor where they were cheered to an echo.

Standing of Teams

The announcement of the standing of the teams was then made by Plant Superintendent P. E. Tarr, of Boston. Hyannis had a mark of 96, Lawrence 95.75, Gloucester 94.75, Marlboro 94.5 and Brockton 94. The Hyannis and Lawrence teams then marched onto the stage where they were presented telephone company medals by Mr. Tarr and the Hyannis team was presented a large loving cup. Dr. E. Preson Jones, director of first aid service, American Red Cross, then presented the winning team Borglum medals and presented the second team Red Cross certificates. As the Hyannis team marched on the stage, their rooters joined with them and performed a snake dance, ending by lifting the team men up on the shoulders of the rooters and carrying them off the floor.

Forrest E. Tarr, division superintendent of plant, was director of the affair, and was assisted by Arthur Hindle, division safety supervisor, Daniel C. Lynch, I. O., medical director of the telephone company, was chief judge and the judges were Dr. A. R. Gardner, Dr. G. Forrest Martin, Dr. E. A.

Robertson, Dr. Henry B. Plunkett, Dr. H. M. Larrabee and Dr. Charles M. Roughton. The recorders were Lester H. Armstrong and Arthur C. Daves, and the timekeepers were Frank W. Dubson and Arthur J. McQuaid. The district safety instructors present were Charles A. Cook, New Bedford; Scott V. Curry, Framingham; Joseph T. McGirr, Lowell; John M. Murney, Jr., Salem, and Wilmarth Pierce, Brockton.

The Hyannis team consisted of J. E. Haydon, captain; C. W. Felton, patient; F. E. N. Brown, R. L. Freeman and J. Rears. The Lawrence team was J. H. Miller, captain; A. Campbell, patient; W. Dickison, W. Donahue and W. B. Humphrey.

The winning team is now eligible to enter into competition with the winners from the other divisions in New England. Although a definite date for this affair has not yet been set, it is expected that it will be in the near future and will be held in the Boston Arena.

One unusual feature of the event was the ushers. These were young ladies from the local exchange, and they were dressed as American Red Cross nurses, making a very pretty picture as they guided the onlookers to their seats and later took part in the presentation of medals to the two chief operators.

General Dancing

Following the presentation of prizes,

general dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

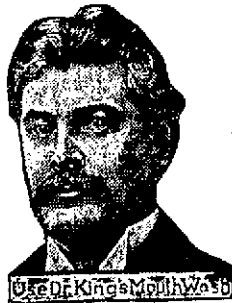

The general reception committee was as follows: Chairman, Joseph T. McGirr, safety instructor. Accounting department, Miss Elizabeth Brown.

TO RELEASE ALL CAPTIVES

Maj. Allen, Freed Yesterday,
Says All Will Be Released
in Few Days

American Army Officer and Englishman, First to Be Set Free

TIENHSIN, June 1. (By the Associated Press.)—All the foreign captives now held by the Suchow train bandits in their Taotzuok stronghold, will be released in a few days, according to Maj. Robert A. Allen, who arrived here last night accompanied by W. Smith, an Englishman, the two men having been released by the outlaws yesterday.

Major Allen was greeted by his wife and Mrs. Roland W. Pinger. The latter's husband, Major Pinger, still is held. Mrs. Pinger appeared greatly distressed at the probable fate of her husband, but Major Allen reassured her with the statement that all the captives would soon be out.

The Chinese officials negotiating with the bandits demanded that the outlaws show their good faith by releasing two foreign prisoners. Major Allen said. The bandits demurred at first, declared the major, but finally announced: "All right, we will release the two grey-haired men."

Mr. Smith, the English tourist, who is around the 60-year mark, was illiterate. He said he was eager to resume his tour of the far east, but added that "in the future, I'll fight shy of bandit centers."

"We did not show the white feather," said he. "It has been an extraordinary experience, thrilling and even romantic, but I couldn't go through it again for a million dollars."

The Englishman brought down a basketful of souvenirs from the bandit camp. Major Allen also brought an old sword with a curious scabbard. He said he traded a box of cigars for it.

The fellow captives of Smith, it was said, were amazed that so frail a man could withstand the terrible forced marches which the bandits at first insisted. Mr. Smith said his only complaint was sleeplessness.

BILLS AFFECTING MOTOR TRAFFIC

The Lowell chamber of commerce has received information from the New England Traffic League about the various legislative bills affecting motor transportation. Among the most important in Massachusetts is House Bill 1035, passed on the 16th, which imposes a tax of two cents per gallon on gas. The tax will produce about $5,000,000.

It is estimated that for a 5-ton truck operating between Boston and Lowell the tax would amount to $180 per year. For the same size truck operating between Boston and Providence it is estimated that the total tax for a year would amount to $250.

There are all sorts of fiscal bills introduced into the legislature. One contemplates putting motor trucks under the control of the Public Utilities Commission. No motor truck, according to that bill, could be used until the owner first secured from the board of control a certificate that the use would be a public necessity. The owner of the truck would have to file a statement of his financial responsibility.

Another bill provides that truck owners furnish bonds and file insurance policies with the board. The Springfield Automobile Club opposes this bill because it estimated that it would cost motor truck owners of this state $25,000,000 a year and that most of that money would go to out-of-town and out-of-state insurance companies.

Headlight Laws
Massachusetts approved 46 styles of headlights and Connecticut has just approved 45 types.

Vermont has just passed a law, effective January 1, 1924, that registrations for trucks will be on the basis of weight, 55 cents per 100 pounds. It is estimated that Vermont will receive $200,000 more revenue than by the present system.

Rhode Island has passed a law limiting the gross weight of motor trucks to 14 tons.

Massachusetts Fees
In the forty-eight states Massachusetts is forty-third in the size of the fee assessed on a one-ton truck, ten dollars. Massachusetts $10 in on a solid tire three and one-half ton truck.

VARNUM SCHOOL PUPILS ON ANNUAL TOUR

The ninth grade students of the Varnum grammar school left Lowell early this morning, on board a special car, bound for John Greenleaf Whittier's birthplace, near Haverhill.

This is an annual event in the Varnum school and is looked forward to for years. The children carry their own lunches and from the time they arrive at their destination, about 11 o'clock, until time to come home, they are free to enjoy themselves to the limit.

The usual program at Whittier's home is a trip through the house, which is kept as near the same as it was in Whittier's time as is possible; a baseball game, luncheon, sports for boys and girls, and then a rest period prior to boarding the car and starting on the homeward journey.

Miss Elizabeth C. Kennedy, the principal of the school; Miss Charlotte Walsh and Miss Esther Donlan, teachers of the ninth grade, and John J. Nolan, janitor, accompanied the students on their excursion.

H. S. REGIMENT EXAMINATIONS
The written examinations for officers for the high school regiment for next year was held in room 137 of the high school this afternoon. More than 80 corporals, sergeants and lieutenants of this year's regiment took the examination and strove to answer the questions formulated by Major Colby Kittredge, drill instructor, as to military tactics, etc. The result of the examination will not be made known for several weeks.

It makes this state 26th on the list. Our $50 fee on a five-ton solid tire truck makes us 31th. The average for all states on a five-ton truck is $36.52, as compared with Massachusetts' $50 fee.

U. S. ENVOY TO SIGN PACTS WITH TURKEY

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The informal treaty negotiations proceeding between Joseph C. Grew, American minister to Switzerland and the Turkish delegates at Lausanne, have been advanced to the stage of formal negotiations. The state department announced last night that it had cabled full powers to Mr. Grew to negotiate and sign a treaty of amity and commerce with Turkey.

While the conclusion of such negotiations, the department's announcement said, still "depended upon a satisfactory adjustment of outstanding questions between the two countries," it was understood that the preliminary conversations had served to round out a substantial agreement as to the general principles to be embodied in the new treaty.

HENRY S. SHAW DEAD

Was Former President of Saco-Lowell Shops

MILTON, June 1.—Henry Southworth Shaw, former president of the Saco-Lowell Machine shops and the Rhode Island Malleable Iron works and connected with numerous other business enterprises, died at his home here today. He was for a short time president of the Boston & Maine railroad and treasurer of the old Cape Cod railroad. He was 50 years of age.

PRIEST SHOT BOY FOUND ROBBING POOR BOXES

DETROIT, June 1.—Rev. Father Michael G. Esper, pastor of St. Boniface Catholic church, early today shot and slightly wounded Harold Smith, 14, of Southbury, Wis., as the boy made a dash for liberty after it was alleged he was caught in the act of robbing poor boxes in the church.

The priest told the police that he was awakened by an alarm bell. The priest took a revolver and entered the church where he says he found the lad with two poor boxes, each containing a small amount of money, in his hands. He was conducting the lad from the church to the parish house when the youth made a break for freedom. The priest told officers he did not mean to shoot the boy, declaring he merely was attempting to bring him to a halt. He fired three shots at the boy, one grazing his arm and knocking him down. The boy was turned over to the police.

The chairman of the other committees are as follows: Alice Kelley, decoration committee; Margaret Wood, novelty committee; Vera Connolly, refreshment committee; Dorothy Hill, invitation committee; and Ann Jettison, reception committee.

PRIEST TESTIFIES IN NEW AIRLINE ROUTES CROKER WILL CASE

DUBLIN, June 1.—(By the Associated Press) Several racing associates of the late Richard Croker, including Harry Reasley, the famous jockey, and Senator Parkinson, for years trainer of the former, Tammany chief-fair's horses, testified today in the will contest trial to Mr. Croker's shrewdness and peculiar mental capacity. They declared he was not susceptible to external influences. His practice, they said, was to consider all men honest until he had conclusive evidence to the contrary.

Father Brennan, of the Carmelite Order, a cousin of Mr. Croker's first wife, gave corroborative testimony along these lines.

DIAMOND TO TESTIFY IN OWN BEHALF

VALPARAISO, Ind., June 1.—Harry Diamond, accused of slaying his wife, Mrs. Nellie Diamond, is scheduled to take the stand in his own defense today. The defendant in a statement last night declared he was confident he would be vindicated of the charge.

EXAMINATIONS COMPLETED

The members of the graduating class of the Lowell Textile school completed their final examinations today. Most of these students who live within a reasonable distance from Lowell will return to their homes tonight and will come back here next Tuesday for graduation. The undergraduate class examinations will continue until next Friday, when the school closes until the fall.

To Provide Transportation Between Business Centers and Beaches

BOSTON, June 1.—A system of airlines to provide commercial transportation between the business and industrial centers and summer resorts of New England, is being planned for by the Boston Chamber of Commerce. It was learned today. Steps are being taken for the formation of local aviation committees and the building of aviation fields in various cities and towns. The chamber has been assured of the cooperation of the army air service and of the New England district of the National Aeronautic association, it is said.

Boston has an airport under construction, to be completed by July 1. Hartford, Conn., Burlington, Vt., Brunswick, Me., and Springfield, Vt., already have aviation fields. A committee appointed by the chamber of commerce has reported that airplanes, skilled pilots and ground personnel are available. Among the proposed airlines are routes connecting Boston and New York, Boston and Bangor, Me., and Boston and Albany.

GOES TO NORWICH TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Charles E. Anderson, secretary of the Trades and Labor council and a prominent member of the International Molders' union of North America, left this morning for Norwich, Conn., where he will attend a convention of the Connecticut Valley conference board of the I.O.M.F. of A., is a delegate from the local organization. The convention will be held in the Molders' union hall in Norwich and will be attended by about 50 delegates from the western part of this state, Connecticut and Vermont. It opened this afternoon and will be brought to a close Sunday. Among the matters to be brought to the attention of the delegates will be the strike of the molders of the Saco-Lowell and Kinson foundries of this city, which will be outlined by New England Business Agent Eugene L. Murphy of the I.O.M.F. of A., who has spent a few days in this city.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

It was a strong and well balanced speech that President Harding made at the Arlington amphitheatre on Memorial day in presence of a vast gathering of veterans. Of course, he paid eloquent tribute to the achievements and sacrifices of the soldiers and expressed the gratitude of the nation to its heroic dead.

But the public is looking for something in the president's utterance relative to the World court, our foreign relations, or our efforts to preserve world peace.

This phase of world conditions was not passed in silence by the president, who despite criticism, seems to have plucked his feet quite solidly upon the World court platform. In this connection he said:

"It is not enough to seek assurance for ourselves. I believe it is a God-given duty to give of our influence to establish the ways of peace throughout the world. We cannot guarantee, but we can promote the peaceful adjustment of disputes, we can aid in the establishment of the agencies of peace, we can be influential in committing the world to the triumph of peace, and make hateful to mankind the spoils of war."

"This is a world relationship we cannot avoid and will not avoid. In the spirit of the America which we rejoice to boast."

All this and other allusions to the need of stabilizing peace would indicate that the president is steering firmly toward the World court, issue as one of the main planks of his platform in the national campaign. The nation elected Harding on a platform in which opposition to the League of Nations was the main issue. Next fall, it will be asked to elect him on a platform favoring our entrance to the World court. Most of the arguments urged in opposition to the League will apply equally to the court and, therefore, the electorate is not likely to reverse itself at Harding's behest. Rather would it turn to the League as a party for light and leading on matters of foreign relations, the World court and the movements for universal peace.

INFANT MORTALITY

The American Child Health association is making a great effort to reduce infant mortality at all stages and all seasons. It finds that the death rate is greatest in the summer season due to the prevalence of intestinal troubles resulting from heat and usually developing cholera infantum. Nevertheless, it is shown that as a result of the more general education of mothers, the increase of scientific facilities, the service of the district nurses and the milk stations, in addition to the infant health conferences, the rate of infant mortality has been greatly cut down in most of the larger cities.

The rate has been materially reduced in Lowell in recent years; but there is still need of combined effort to save the lives of waifs, that die every summer for lack of proper care or of the food that is necessary for their sustenance and that will not upset their digestive functions in hot weather.

It has been found that many deaths of infants in this city are due either to the ignorance of mothers or to the fact that they go to work and leave their infants in charge of others, often of little children that are not capable of taking care of them. Such treatment is actually cruel and should not be tolerated anywhere. Another cause of illness and death among babies in hot weather especially, is the growing lack of breast feeding. The infection of food is one of the primary causes as it is difficult to keep milk fresh in hot weather and when changed, it is simply poison for the infant. Babies are extremely sensitive to changes in temperature and the heat that only renders adults uncomfortable often causes illness in babies, rendering them unable to take food and if the condition be not relieved, they eventually die of weariness, malnutrition or cholera infantum.

SLAP AT HARDING

Very naturally the trouble we have had over seeking pay for the expense of keeping an army on the German border is referred to as an instance of how we are likely to be treated if we were associated with the European powers in the World court or the League of Nations.

From republican headquarters last week was given out a statement to the effect that England was trying to "bilk the United States out of the cost of her Rhine army." It was also intimated that the Washington government would raise up trying to collect. Indeed it would seem from this output of the republican national committee, that Uncle Sam was very much nettled. But something happened afterwards that caused the committee to withdraw this statement and announced that an agreement had been signed with the allies amounting to a promise to pay, but stipulating that if the plan didn't work, the United States could negotiate it. Yes, of course, the United States can withdraw from an understanding of that kind much easier than from the League of Nations or even the World court.

The issuance of this statement by the republican national committee was a slap at the president against whom Chairman John T. Adams has opened war. It appears that unless the president forces the resignation of Adams, he will have lost control of the organization and will find himself opposed instead of supported in the supposed house of his friends.

EVADING THE LAW

Fortunately the United States treasury department has found a way out of enforcing the decision that foreign ships must not enter American ports with liquor aboard. Secretary Mellon decides that liquor can be carried by such ships within the three mile limit for medicinal purposes. Another decision which is to be carried to the highest court, says that there is no restriction upon a physician as to the quantity of liquor he can prescribe for a patient. If both these rulings should go into effect, then it would be in order to open medical dispensaries in which the chief medicine would be some reputable brand of rye or perhaps the still popular old Scotch.

THE RIVER PROJECT

Upon the city solicitor will devolve the responsibility of making a good presentation of the arguments in favor of making the Merrimack river navigable at the hearing to be held in Washington this month. One speaker cannot cover every phase of this important question in a limited time. Mr. Sutherland and other Lawrence advocates of the improvement made very convincing arguments at past hearings on this question, and it is expected that Lawrence and Haverhill in this case also will contribute much to the weight of argument in favor of the project.

LAWRENCE HIGH SCHOOL

Lawrence has had an unpleasant experience in the construction of her new high school. The Dose company, which had the original contract, collapsed financially. Fortunately the city was protected by a bond with the New Amsterdam company to the extent of $125,000. Without a protest this company stepped in and said it would complete the contract held by the Dose company and the J. W. Bishop Construction company of Worcester has been put in charge of the work with the prospect that the contract will be carried out in every detail. The contract price of the school addition was $625,000.

SPEED OF RADIO

You may not believe this, but it is true. A speaker in New York is heard by a radio fan in San Francisco before he is heard by the people in his own audience at the back of the hall in New York.

This is because the audience hears by sound waves which travel only 1125 feet a second, while the radio fan has the sound brought to him by vibrations traveling 186,000 miles a second. The difference in hearing time in this case is only a fraction of a second, but it is hard to believe. It covers the difference in the rate of speed at which sound and radio travel.

DEMOCRATS CARRY DENVER

The election of Ben M. Stapleton, democrat, as mayor of Denver, defeating Mayor Bailey, republican, by 6,120 majority, is not only a large overturn in municipal politics, but is regarded by competent observers as a sure indication that the democrats will carry the election in 1924 for their state and the national ticket, but that it will insure the defeat of Senator Phelps, republican, for re-election. Senator Phelps was the chief backer of Mayor Bailey and depended largely upon retaining control of the city in his re-election campaign.

MEMORIAL DAY

That sermon by Rev. James D. Sherry, former chaplain of the 26th Division, on Memorial day, was certainly strong, patriotic and inspiring. It paid eloquent tribute to the self-sacrifice of the soldier, showing that the things worth striving for are won only by such service, and the sacrifice on Calvary was pointed to as what the Savior did for all mankind. Rev. Fr. Sherry is certainly a staunch friend of the soldier boys. He knows what they suffered and sacrificed.

THE DIRECT WAY

A court appeal reveals that while a jury in Detroit was arguing for hours about whether a certain kind of packing box would burn, a reporter gratified his curiosity and settled the question instantly by applying a lighted match. Yes, it burned.

There is always a swift and direct way of doing things. Too bad, our laws are not written and administered, and our government handled by horse sense individuals like the young Detroit reporter.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Uncle Sam's bookkeeper is auditing 1,500,000 income tax returns a year. They are about 2,500,000 behind the game. A newspaperman figures out that it will take 50 years to catch up.

Taxpayers would be saved millions if the income tax laws were simplified. The lawyer-politicians who make the laws may say it is impossible, but the Ten Commandments—the basis of all sensible law contain only 10 words, including all explanatory clauses. And no amendments have been necessary.

That a lecturer on ethics and philosophy should have ended his life indicates if he were sane that he had lost faith in his own teaching. There are so many causes of death that it is peculiarly sad to hear of any one committing suicide.

Like every other legitimate organization the K.K.K. is fast tottering to extinction. The states in which it has a foothold can cordially say "good riddance."

Our older residents will have to move around so as to familiarize themselves with the new names of public squares.

During the past week, the disabled veterans have had reason to feel that they have many warm friends in Lowell.

As expected, we are to have a referendum on the 2 cent tax on gasoline, which means that it will be killed.

SEEN AND HEARD

No matter how far money goes, it seldom reaches the next pay day.

An East Hampton, L. I. family, named Maguire eats 50 barrels of potatoes a year.

It is always proper to think what you say, but not always proper to say what you think.

Another society crook has been caught. Some people are not known by the company they keep.

When Morocco's Sultan decided to marry the whole country became shrouded in gloom, as every subject must contribute a wedding present.

In Oswego county, N. Y., Miss Hazel Davis teaches a rural school with only one pupil. The teacher devotes her entire time and attention to 7-year-old Lawrence DeLong.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gould of Hardwick, Vt., have a pet woodchuck which Mr. Gould captured about a year ago when it was young, taking it home in his pocket. It has just come out of its winter hibernation in the cellar and will scuffle and wrestle with Mr. Gould like a puppy. The "chuck" is allowed the run of the house.

The girls in a Sunday school in a church at Nashua, N. H., organized a club which they named the C. I. C. (club in a corner). The boys, not to be outdone, organized one, the B. V. D. club. The girls were very properly shocked until they learned that the letters stood for "Behind the Vestry Door."

A Thought

Got 100 All Right

Walter's mental faculties were not over active in the classroom, a fact which caused his fond parents considerable disappointment. One afternoon when he was young, taking it very seriously, he burst into the room shouting: "I got 100 this afternoon." "Splendid, darling!" exclaimed his mother proudly. "Why were you so 'Fifty in spelling' and 50 in 'Rithmetic,' came the lad's reply.

You Tell Him, Daddy

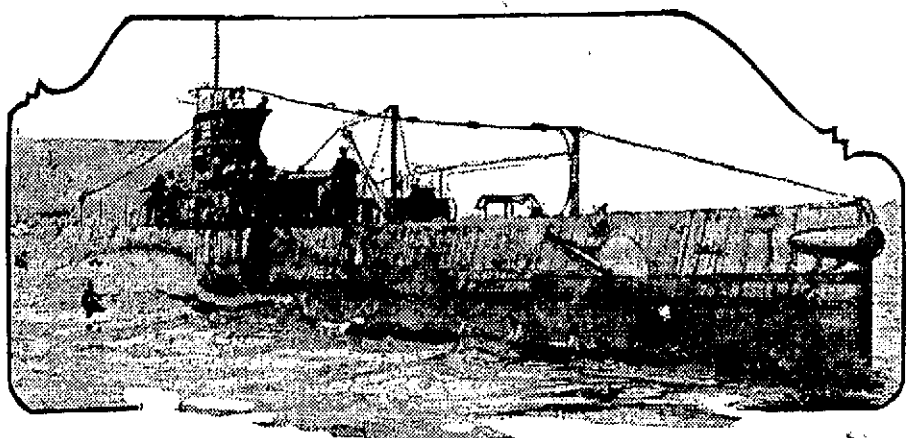

The clergyman was waxing eloquent on the subject of the "Future State of the Church." As his voice rose in pitch and volume he made the rafters ring with the question: "I ask you what shall be the future glory of the Church?" A brief pause for breath, then he continued: "I ask you, what shall be the future glory of the Church?" "You tell him, daddy, and let's go," exclaimed an entreating voice.

She Was With Her

A girls' club devoted to bridge and general culture had invited an earnest lady to lecture. The lady went at it with vim and vigor. She enumerated enough injustices to make your hair curl. She warned to her subject, hammered the tables and scoured the club out of the room. Finally she singled out an attractive girl who seemed to be paying most attention. "Please her with a steady eye, the lecturer wound up vehemently: "We must remedy these terrible injustices with you. You must decide what you will do for the girl promptly. Let's have a pageant."

He Had Ambition

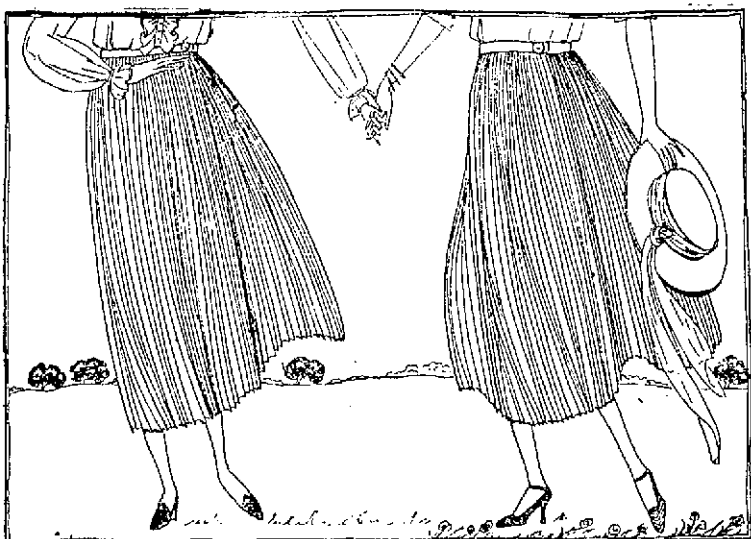

Unable at 23 to read or write, Rev. Dr. William H. Morgan of Greenport, L. I., has won the degrees of A. B., D. D., and LL. D. born in England, he came to this country when a young boy and went to work in the blast furnaces of Ironton, Penn., when he was 10, having had but one day's schooling. He then proceeded to learn to read and write. When he was 23 he hired a young schoolteacher to instruct him in the three R's at one to this country when a young boy and went to work in the blast furnaces of Ironton, Penn., when he was 10, having had but one day's schooling. SCIENTISTS STILL AT ODDS OVER RELATIVITY

PARIS, June 1.—(By the Associated Press) A division in scientific circles has been made here by the relativity theory of Einstein, challenging old conceptions of time and space.

Former Premier Poincaré, first a mathematician and later a politician, is threatening to drop politics but enough to prove that the earth has stopped turning. In fact he asserts that it never did turn. M. Poincaré has a brand new theory of the universe, based on mechanics. He says Einstein is right, except that he is not right enough.

Professor Langevin, physicist of the College of France, inventor of the sounding machine by which ships may be piloted in any sea, has made what his friends describe as a religion of the Einstein theory, combating old theories and all others with much ardor.

Emile Picard, the genial permanent secretary of the Academy of Sciences, from his retreat in the Institute has sought to dodge this battle, stopped turning. In fact he asserts that it never did turn. M. Poincaré has a brand new theory of the universe, based on mechanics. He says Einstein is right, except that he is not right enough.

to the belief that the old timers were fairly correct.

Director Baillaud, of the Paris Observatory, says that in many respects science is still like Diogenes, stumbling along with his lantern. "As for me," he added, "I have no opinion as to the relative merits of the discussion. It would take me two years of my life to become familiar with the Einstein theory, and as I am 75 now I really haven't the time to spare."

BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE VOTES TO SUSPEND VACATIONS FOR LABORERS

In order that there may be no interruptions in the season's schedule of work, the board of public service at a meeting late yesterday afternoon voted to suspend all vacations for laborers in departments under its control until a later date. So many applications for vacations have already been received that it would greatly hinder the work as laid out if granted now.

The board does not say that no vacations will be granted to those who desire them, but will exercise its own judgment as to the proper time for such respite.

After a lengthy private conference the board went into session at 4:45 p. m.

Councilor Stearns requested the repair of a number of streets in Centralville. Referred to next date of hearings.

A communication from the mayor called attention to the need of painting flag poles near the city stables. Referred to the superintendent of streets.

Pres. Gallagher of the city council appeared before the board to favor dropping of edgework at the corner of Pine and Burr streets to allow entrance to a garage. The councilor was advised by the board that a great number of similar petitions are on hand and that it is impossible to give them attention at present.

It was explained that the edgework gangs are laying new stones daily for people who are paying for them and although petitions for the removal of stones may be attended to later on in the season, it will be impossible and inadvisable, as well, to consider them now.

It was brought out that a great many requests for annual vacations have been received by the city engineer and other members of the board.

Chairman Dennis J. Murphy felt the street department would be seriously handicapped and sorely crippled if vacations were allowed now and the other members of the board expressed similar views.

The upshot of the discussion was a decision to allow no vacations for laborers at present and not until the season's rush of work has abated and the departments can conveniently operate with reduced personnel. Under the law city laborers are granted two weeks' vacation with pay annually, but in this case the time of taking such respite is discretionary with the public service board.

The engineer was authorized to confer with the land and buildings department relative to restoration of the old Durkee house.

Miss Mary M. Burns was elected a clerk in the office of the engineering department at a salary of $15 per week.

George H. Barrus, consulting engineer, reported his findings after an examination of the four boilers at the West Sixth street pumping station. According to the report submitted to the board, the boilers are unfit for heavy duty and he recommended their replacement. New ones should be equipped with apparatus for the use of fuel oil. The report was taken under advisement.

Resolutions were read and referred to the proper officials for enactment. Adjourned at 6 p. m.

PROBATE COURT

Justice John C. Logan occupied the bench at a special session of the probate court which was held at the Gorham street courthouse this forenoon. Several cases were called and continued and the will of the late Mary Ann Cady of Lowell was allowed. There were two administrative grants, that of John S. Silva of Lowell and that of Mary A. Bachan, also of Lowell.

CHILD'S HIP FRACTURED

John Keene, aged 8 years and residing at 60 Lilley avenue, sustained a fractured hip yesterday, when he was struck by an automobile at the junction of Lilley avenue and Cumberland road. The automobile was being operated by Edwin J. Bernier of 766 Broadway. The little fellow was given first aid by Dr. Gaffney and was later taken to St. John's hospital.

TRYING TO PUT PARTY NAME BILL ACROSS

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, June 1.—Desperate efforts are being made today by the Liberal Republican league and the Massachusetts Federation of Good Government clubs to secure the necessary 15,000 signatures which must be filed with the secretary of state by 5 o'clock this afternoon to put before the voters of the state on a referendum the party-name bill.

The party-name bill, which passed this legislature, provides that a party name such as republican or democrat, cannot be used without the consent of the state committee of the party.

Once the bill was passed, persons interested in politics realized that they had given the right of use of the party name to a committee which, even if it represented a small minority of the party, could control the name.

Opposition to the bill sprang up in many quarters and prominent men, including four former attorneys-general and four former governors of the commonwealth, signed the first referendum proceedings. Up to this morning between 9,000 and 10,000 of the signatures necessary to put the matter before the people on a referendum had been obtained with "three thousand more in prospect." Workers throughout the state today were making every effort to obtain and bring in the other needed signatures.

If proponents of this referendum measure are successful in getting the matter directly before the voters it will be one of the three matters which citizens will vote on by a referendum. The other two will be the tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline, the reversion of the commonwealth, and the referendum on a state liquor enforcement bill.

HELD WHIST PARTY IN PARISH HALL

A very successful whist party in aid of the coming garden party was held last evening at St. Columba's parish hall, under the direction of Mrs. Patrick T. Brennan. The winners of the ladies' prizes were Miss Theresa Lavery, Mrs. J. A. Connor, Miss Molly Barry and Miss Jeanette Tyrrell. The men's prizes were captured by Andrew Doyle, Andrew Molloy and Geo. Walworth. The beautiful and appropriate prizes were donated by the following firms: The A. G. Pollard Co., The Hon. Marché Dry Goods Co., The Gagnon Co., MacCartney Apparel Shop, D. S. O'Brien Co., P. F. Devine, and Serra Bros.

At the conclusion of whist a pleasing musical program was rendered including solos by Mrs. Nora Regan, Longtin, John F. Roane and Fred Cummings. Miss Leona Spellman was the accompanist.

RECOMMITTED TO THE LYMAN SCHOOL

Stanley Plekos, 16 years old, of Dracut, on parole from the Lyman school, was ordered re-committed to that institution when he was convicted, in the juvenile court this morning, of pocket picking. Two companions, implicated in similar transactions, appeared sentences to the industrial school for boys at Shirley.

Plekos was arrested by Officer Quinlan last Saturday noon on the complaint of a young girl who told the officer she had been relieved of $18 while shopping in a downtown store. Plekos admitted his guilt after a grilling and volunteered to have two co-workers brought in. Going out with Capt. Petrie to find his comrades, he escaped and was re-committed Sunday afternoon in Dracut by Officer Owen Conway. He confessed to the theft of about 15 pocketbooks and nine pay envelopes during the past five weeks. It was said that one of the pocketbooks contained $125.

Amateur Ball

The boys of upper Gorham street have organized for the season and would like to hear some of the fast teams in the city, the Indians preferred. Call 6434-M and ask for Bill.

The Elks would like a game with the American Juniors for next Monday evening at Durkin's playground. The lineup is as follows: Cohen, C. Lawson, P. Santos, W. W. Lawson, 2b, Gennell, ss, Currier, 3b, Bowman, 1b, McCormick, cf, McLean, rf. If challenge is accepted, answer through this paper.

The senior Y.M.H.A. journeyed to Manchester, N. H. Wednesday and defeated the Y.M.H.A. team of that city by the score of 9 to 7 in a hard fought game. Myers pitched excellent ball for the winners and the Harris brothers featured with the willow. Next Sunday, the Y.M.H.A. will play the Lawrence Y.M.H.A. at Methuen. All players are requested to report at 10 o'clock.

The Lincoln street playground at 1 o'clock.

The Butler Thirde won an easy, 9 to 2 victory over the Young Judeans yesterday. Sharkey featured at bat while Eno and Brady starred in the field. Games are wanted with 14-year-old outfits. Call 5337-M and ask for Joe.

The Aces have reorganized and wish to engage in twilight games with 17-year-old teams, the Kenwood Rovers, Willis Stars preferred. The Aces lineup is composed of Joval, Morlan, H. Cohen, Myers, Grand, Finner, Sandler, Gerson, Borash, Greene, Steinberg and M. Cohen. For games, answer through this column.

The Washington A.C. will cross bats with the Kimball Shoe Co. team of Lawrence in the down-river city Sunday. All players are requested to report at Lord's tobacco store at 12.45 p. m.

BALL GAME AT SILESIA PARK TOMORROW

The strong Silesia Mills team of North Chelmsford, which won a brilliant 2 to 1 victory over the Millstreams of Chelsea Memorial day, will engage in its second contest of the season with the fast Somerville team at Silesia park tomorrow afternoon. The visiting team will go to North Chelmsford with an imposing record and fully intent on taking the measure of "Barney" Gilmore's ball toss.

To the many Lowell fans who could not attend the opening game last Wednesday, tomorrow's get-together will provide the opportunity of witnessing one of the best ball clubs ever assembled in these parts as well as a baseball diamond of extraordinary excellence and one made to order for fast play. The new field is a beauty in every respect and makes fast playing imperative.

Special electric car accommodations will be afforded all patrons tomorrow afternoon, while the state highways are in excellent shape for automobiles. There were hundreds of machines passed through the gates during Wednesday's matinee.

Silesia will use practically the same lineup which proved so effective against the Chelsea Millstreams.

FIELD DAY AT THE GREENHALGE SCHOOL

Yesterday was gala day at the Greenhalge school with the students of the school the guests of the Parent-Teacher association, the following officers of which acted as hosts of the day: Mrs. Philip Cinqmars, president; Mrs. Adelard Cassette, vice-president; Miss Agnes Dudley, secretary; and Thomas Garvey, treasurer.

The playground in back of the school was the scene of the event and prizes were offered for each grade of the school.

Grade 1 held a rabbit race which was won by James White and Sule Sudol; grade 2 held a bean race, with Raymond Pratte and Grace Rakip the winners. The third grade participated in a three-legged race with Annie Steer and Harold Nolan the winners. A crab race and sack race featured the fourth grades exhibition. The first was won by Elbert Larose and Marie Emard and the second by Helen

The Centralville Twilight league, which enjoyed great success last year, opened its 1923 season on the Centralville Social club grounds last evening with the Crescent Hills winning over the Ponies by the score of 22 to 5.

The league this year is composed of five fast teams including the Crescent Hills, Ponies, Dixwells, Beacons and Centralville Social club. The Crescent Hills have open dates on Saturdays and Sundays and would like to hear from local semi-pro teams for games in those days. Arrangements may be made with Manager William Vincent, Crescent Hill Association, 15 Lily avenue.

TO ABOLISH DAYLIGHT SAVING

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 1.—The state senate last night passed a bill to abolish daylight saving throughout the state. The bill goes to the house.

ALTITUDE WILL NOT AFFECT FIGHTERS

By BILL BREITENSTEIN
SHELBY, Mont., June 1.—Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons can stand the altitude.

The arena's elevation—3283 feet above sea level—will not affect their wind in the slightest.

Both will be acclimated thoroughly to Shelby's rare air when they step into the ring on the afternoon of July 4, leading northern Montana physicalians agree.

Great Falls, where Dempsey is training, has an altitude of 3300 feet, while Havre, where Gibbons is working out, has one of 2465 feet.

Then Jack coming from Utah, naturally is accustomed to a high elevation, the doctors point out. And Tommy, they explain, began to fortify himself against it on his recent theatrical tour.

"True, the fighters will have to breathe deeper to get the same amount of oxygen they get at lower altitudes," says Dr. J. B. Reynolds of Great Falls, who's on the ground as official physician.

But I don't believe they will notice it.

"Now at Butte, it's different. The 5000-foot level there has often perceptibly slows up eastern boxers. A 3000-foot altitude, though, never has proven detrimental to trained athletes, as far as I know."

Dr. S. MacKenzie, Havre; Dr. C. D. Howell, Valter, and Dr. C. J. Breen and Dr. B. K. Woods, both of Great Falls, share Dr. Reynolds' views. All have looked after participants in various bouts throughout the state.

PRESS AGENT SUES WILLARD FOR $12,000

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Gene Doyle, formerly publicity agent for Jess Willard, announces here he has filed in New York a suit against his former employer for $12,000 which he asserts is due him for services rendered.

Doyle said he persuaded Willard to attempt a comeback and that it was publicly which he gave Willard that brought him offers for bouts.

Willard began light training hard yesterday for his bout with Luis Angel Firpo, July 7.

MANCHESTER AND LOWELL TOMORROW

The Manchester, N. H., high school ball team will play the Lowell team tomorrow at 3:15 p. m. on Alumni Field. This is the last home game of the year and Coach "Timmie" Liston has high hopes of his team's winning the game. Out of ten starts, Lowell has won seven, being defeated by Lawrence twice and by St. John's Prep. A victory tomorrow will give the team an average of .80 for the season, which is higher than it has been able to get for some years past.

AMERICAN OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, June 1.—For the first time in several years, the American open golf championship to be held at Inwood, Long Island, probably will lack international competition, though national interest promises to be keener than ever.

British professional stars have added to the competitive interest for the past three years but unless some of the younger stars, such as Audrey Hooper and A. C. Hayter, decide to try their luck on this side, there is little likelihood this year of another invasion. The veterans have practically abandoned all thought of making another trip.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR UNVEILING OF MEMORIAL TO HEROES OF THE ACRE DISTRICT

Final plans in connection with the unveiling of the memorial to the soldier-heroes of the Acre district and the dedication of two squares Sunday afternoon, were made at a special meeting of the committee in charge last night. The finance committee reported that the drive for funds was meeting with unusual success and will be brought to a close tomorrow with the suggestion that all pledges be turned over to members of the committee as soon as possible.

EIGHT THOROUGHBREDS AND PONY PERISHED

CLEVELAND, June 1.—Owners and trainers were checking up their stables today in an effort to learn if any of their horses were among the eight thoroughbreds and a pony burned to death in a fire which destroyed five barns at Maple Heights race track here yesterday.

One of the dead animals is believed to be Fincastle, but this could not be verified until several horses, which could not be located last night, were rounded up today. They were among the hundred odd that were liberated when the fire was raging and fled through woods and farms near the track.

Postlight, a 10-year-old gelding by Hamburg and Huron II, a seven-year-old gelding by Sweeper, were probably the best known of the dead animals.

Portlight had been liberated, but returned to the burning barn. Others killed were Susanna, Mambi, The Usher, Long Island and Shortstop. The dead animals belonged to the stables of Asa S. Bastman of Toledo and J. A. Parsons of Cheyenne, Wyo. The loss will run over $100,000, it is estimated.

INVITATION GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

BALTIMORE, Md., June 1.—Match play in the annual invitation golf tournament at the Baltimore Country club began today among 48 pairs who successfully came through yesterday's qualifying round.

D. Clarke Curkran, of the Huntingdon Valley Country club, Philadelphia, who set a new record for the course by qualifying with 71, is matched with F. W. Knight, who took a 78 yesterday.

Dr. O. F. Willing and Jack Neville, members of the victorious American Walker cup team in England, were the low form yesterday. Neville requiring 75 and Willing 82 strokes to complete the 18 holes. Dr. Willing is paired with Donald J. Brown, who also shot an 82, and Neville with D. R. Hart, 78, should each win their matches. They will meet in the second round.

Do you know Baseball?

Questions

ONE—When must the catcher hold the ball on a third strike or retire the batsman?

TWO—Is there a penalty if a fielder throws his glove at a batted or thrown ball, but fails to hit it?

THREE—Batsman strikes at a batted ball, ball rebounds from bat and strikes batter, rolling into fair territory. Batsman had not left his position. What is the proper ruling?

FOUR—With runner on first and two down, batter gives hit and run sign and singles through short. Runner on first goes to third on play, while batsman reaches second on play to get runner going to third. Runner who touched third failed to touch second, ball is thrown there and he is called out, retiring side. What should this play?

FIVE—Glove in a few inches foul as it passes third, then engulfs into fair territory. Is it fair or foul?

Answers

ONE—When bases are empty catcher must always hold third strike to retire the batsman. If any base other than first is occupied he must hold the ball. If with two out and first is occupied he must hold the ball. The rule is that base must be occupied and less than two out, the batsman is automatically out on a third strike. This is a new rule, purposely dropping the ball and trying for a double play.

TWO—The glove must come into contact with the ball for a penalty to be inflicted.

THREE—It is a foul ball as the batsman who has not left his box is in foul territory.

FOUR—Batsman is not credited with a hit, since the failure of the runner to touch second on his way to third, makes a force play for the third out.

FIVE—The ball is foul, if so when it passed third base, it matters not what later happened.

Smith is playing Jones in match competition. Both get on long balls from the tee. Both apparently get on the green in good position on their second shots. On reaching the green Smith finds his ball in the hole. Jones, unable to find his ball after a short search, gave up the hole. The two men then drove off from the next tee, Jones conceding the hole to Smith. The two players following Smith and Jones, on holing out, found that Jones had put the ball into cup on his second shot, making his hole in two, while the very best Smith could have done was a three. The players immediately notify Smith and Jones of the find. Who really won the hole—Smith or Jones?

If a player reaches a green and is unable to find his ball, the first place to look for it is the cup. There is always a chance that you may have put over a miracle shot. When Jones failed to find his ball, he should have played his next stroke as nearly as possible from where he played his second shot, which resulted in what he supposed was a lost ball. One stroke penalty should have been added to his score. Since Jones did not follow the rule, believing the second shot of Smith made it practically impossible for him to win the hole, he lost the hole when he gave up the hole, rather than following rule 22.

Player drives his ball into a recognized water hazard. While the ball does not lie in the water, same being rather shallow, it is imbedded in the mud and almost covered by the sand. What is the proper procedure before making the next shot?

Player may drop the ball under penalty of one stroke either behind the hazard, keeping the spot at which the ball crossed the margin of the hazard between himself and the hole, or in the hazard, keeping the spot at which the ball entered the water between himself and the hole.

Pitching is one feature of the game that has gone back lamentably in the opinion of Frank Chance, manager of the Boston Red Sox. Chance, who has been out of baseball for about eight years, sees a decided change for the worse in the pitching end of the game.

"When I was managing the Cubs," says Chance, "I think a half dozen pitchers all so nearly equal in ability that it was hard to choose between them. The Cubs were always reasonably sure of good pitching in every ball game.

"Such a condition no longer exists. In the old days a club looked over good pitching almost every day. In these days a club sees high class pitching about every third or fourth day.

"Few staffs have more than two star pitchers and a number can boast of only one really great twirler. Many clubs are using mediocre pitchers in the role of regulars who 10 or 15 years ago would have been lucky to hang on as relief pitchers or mere substitutes.

"Lack of control seems to be the worst fault of a majority of big league pitchers. Many who seem to have enough stuff to get along can't get anywhere because of lack of control. In the old days a majority of the pitchers could get the fast one over almost at will, but it seems those times are past.

"A manager with a staff like that of the New York Americans is indeed fortunate. I wish I had one."

Tomorrow afternoon at Abbot field, Graniteville, the Abbot Worsteds ball club will play the Boston postoffice team, one of the strongest semi-professional organizations in the state. Both clubs are slated to do the heavy work for the Abbot while Shea and Wall are scheduled to perform in a similar capacity for the malheur. In addition, a former Eastern league pitcher and is reputed to possess the goods. Dec caught at Boston college with great success and continued his education, playing on several college outfits in this and other New England states. The regular Abbot lineup will be seen in action.

Nearly $500,000 worth of rabbit skins were shipped from Australia last year.

SCOTT HOPES TO PLAY TWO MORE YEARS

By N. E. A. Service

NEW YORK, June 1.—How much longer will Everett Scott, who still is going after playing more than 1000 consecutive games, continue to play major league ball?

Last year Scott appeared to be slowing up badly. His play on the Polo Grounds was ordinary all season and in the world series he dropped away below the high standard that usually characterizes his work.

This year Scott appears in much better condition than last season and is playing a much improved game. Incidentally the new Yankee field, which will be a trifle slow for a time, will help his play.

"I never intend to play minor league ball," says Scott. "If able to stick two more years in the majors I will be content to retire."

BACHELOR PARTY

A bachelor party was given last night at the home of Roger Hayward, at 31 Sanborn avenue, for Donald Fletcher, who is shortly to become a benedict. The party was after the nature of a surprise and everyone enjoyed himself to the limit. In the course of the evening a gift was presented to Mr. Fletcher by James Macdonald, in behalf of the gathering, and Mr. Fletcher responded fittingly to the presentation. Mr. Fletcher is connected with the firm of E. L. Fletcher Co., wholesale tea and coffee merchants in Boston.
